Site Plan Approval for PCH Postponed to June 3 Meeting

After three hours of testimony and public hearing on Princeton Community Housing's Herrontown Green development last Thursday, the Planning Board decided to postpone site plan approval until its next meeting on June 3. The board meets at 7:30 in the Valley Road building meeting room.

Issues raised include the lack of open space for teenagers to let off steam in pick-up ball games, adequacy of parking vs. the amount of paved area shown on the plan, storm water detention if a regional basin on the adjacent Arcaro tract is not forthcoming, and the name, Herrontown Green.

Former Borough Mayor Robert Cawley began the PCH presentation by reminding the board: "This is your project, yours and the Township's." Herrontown Green is the first project that PCH will be building without federal support, and the first in which the non-profit organization is acting as a for-profit developer. Now that the federal funds with which it built Princeton Community Village and Elm Court are no longer available, PCH hopes to sell 140 Herrontown Green units in the $130,000 to $150,000 range and turn all the profits into subsidy for 140 lower-income units.

PCH is building Herrontown Green under an agreement with the Township, which expects to receive a credit of 154 units (an extra credit of 14, because so many of the units are rental) against the municipality's mandated "fair share" of 275 low- and moderate-income units. The 50-50 ratio of market to Mt. Laurel units ("your concept," Mr. Cawley pointed out) is unique in the state and has received "supportive comments" from officials of the Department of Community Affairs and the Council on Affordable Housing.

"We think it is very doable," Mr. Cawley added, even though cost estimates are running slightly higher than originally projected. Speaking to issues such as contributing to the cost of the regional detention basin and to off-tract improvements, he warned the board that for each $140,000 that is added to the total project, another $1,000 must be tacked on to the market units.

He said that to go higher than $150,000 for these units, which are two- and three-bedroom townhouses of 1,120 to 1,280 square feet each, will push out the middle-income people for whom they are designed and may also slow sales, because they will be

Dr. Donald T. Maiocco Is Named Assistant Schools Superintendent

Dr. Donald T. Maiocco has been named assistant superintendent of Princeton Regional Schools. He is currently principal of the George Washington School in Ridgewood, New Jersey, a middle school, and has spent the last 22 years in the Ridgewood system.

Dr. Maiocco, 47, will take over the post on August 10, after his return from France, where he will fulfill a grant from the National Council for the Humanities to study the architecture and history of Notre Dame Cathedral in Paris.

The Yonkers, N.Y.-born administrator will replace Jamieson McKenzie, who resigned in November to become superintendent of schools in Montgomery. Negotiations are still under way on Dr. Maiocco's salary; Dr. McKenzie had been paid $63,728 a year.

Currently an adjunct professor at Columbia University, Dr. Maiocco has served, in Ridgewood, as principal of the Willard, Ridge and Orchard Schools, director of instruction, and teacher of English and reading in the high school. He received bachelor's and master's degrees from Jersey City State College and a doctorate in curriculum from Teachers College, Columbia University.

A student of Spanish and Portuguese, he has served as a consultant to a variety of national and international organizations. These include WNET-Thirteen, the Stamford, Conn., Public Schools, Macmillan Publishers, and schools in Bahia, Sao Paolo, and Rio de Janiero, Brazil.

Superintendent of Schools Carol B. Choye said the new administrator will focus on staff development, curriculum, and program evaluation. He will also begin shortly to evaluate the music program in grades K-12.

Dr. Maiocco said he was very impressed by the Princeton Regional Long-Range plan. "It has selected really important things for the next

Last 2 Male Eating Clubs Must Now Admit Women

The New Jersey Division of Civil Rights ruled Tuesday that the two remaining all-male eating clubs at Princeton University — Ivy Club and Tiger Inn — will be required to accept women as members.

The ruling, by Division Director Pamela S. Poff, comes eight years after Sally Frank filed a law suit to end the clubs' all-male policy. Ms. Frank graduated in 1980.

Ms. Poff's ruling was in response to a January decision by Administrative Law Judge Robert Miller that the clubs need not admit women so long as they sever their ties with the University. The University, which had filed an exception to the decision, reacted favorably to Ms. Poff's ruling "that the clubs will not be ordered to sever their ties. They will be ordered to admit women."

"Ms. Poff's decision represents the most ap-

Council Reaches Decision On Joan Hill Suspension, But Does Not Announce It

Inexplicably drawing out a five-month controversy yet another two days, Borough Council has chosen not to announce immediately its decision regarding Joan Hill's appeal.

Mayor and Council emerged from a two-hour session behind closed doors on Tuesday night to announce that they had reached a decision in the Joint Civil Rights Director's appeal of a 30-day suspension without pay imposed by Borough Administrator Mark Gordon. However, Mayor Barbara Sigmund said that the public would not be informed of the decision until Thursday, May 28, at 11 a.m.

Although it was widely expected that an announcement of the decision would follow the closed session, the mayor said that preparation of paperwork necessitated the postponement.

She said a resolution would be prepared on the case, and propriate outcome from the viewpoint of the University," said Thomas Wright, general counsel. "This institution made a commitment to coeducation in 1969. Princeton's educational purposes will be served best when the Prospect Street clubs also are fully accessible to women."

The ruling did not require the clubs to admit Ms. Frank as a member. However, it awarded her $5,000 in damages, plus attorneys' fees. This was double the amount for damages that Judge Miller had granted her.

In her ruling, Ms. Poff wrote that Ms. Frank had been singled out for harassment and personal abuse within the University community, of which the clubs are a part, "which was a direct result of her opposition to the discrimination practiced by Respondents."

Ms. Poff also found that "unless it can be demonstrated that a woman would not have been offered membership if she was male, an order requiring an offer of membership would clearly be appropriate."

Ms. Frank had originally filed suit against Cottage Club, as well as Ivy and Tiger. However, the trustees of Cottage decided in January, 1986, to go coed, and the club has already conducted a coed bicker.

Club officials had testified before Judge Miller that women candidates had been considered fairly. Given this, plus the testimony at the hearing that Ivy and Tiger would comply with any final order to admit women, Ms. Poff said she would rely on the good faith of the members of the two clubs to comply with the order, without presently providing for specific monitoring by the University.

Ms. Poff ordered Ivy and Tiger to report in writing to the Division of Civil Rights for the next two years on the number of women admitted to membership. She also retained jurisdiction for the Division to observe and require compliance and to issue Supplemental Orders, if necessary, to insure compliance with the ruling.

Appeals of Ms. Poff's ruling can be made either to the Appellate Division or directly to the state Supreme Court. In the event of an appeal, the mandate that the clubs admit women could be stayed pending a decision.

that it would be memorialized by Mayor and Council on June 4.

Ms. Hill and her attorneys were not present during Council deliberations.

Mayor and Council reached their decision after a total of nearly eight hours of hearings. After a five-and-a-half-hour session last week, attended by Ms. Hill and her attorneys from the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, the proceedings were closed until the Tuesday night meeting.

Ms. Hill was issued the 30-day suspension by Mr. Gordon after he found her guilty of acting in a way unbecoming a public employee. Mr. Gordon had begun the disciplinary hearing in response to a charge leveled 5 months ago by Township Magistrate Sidney Souter that she had abused her position as the director of the Joint Civil Rights Commission. He based his complaint on the videotape taken after Ms. Hill's arrest, on August 27, for driving-while-intoxicated. The tape showed an angry Ms. Hill briefly cursing the arresting officer, Sgt. Anthony Gaylord.

Ms. Hill testified during her trial before Judge Souter that Sgt. Gaylord, with whom she had gone to school in Princeton, had a vendetta against her because of her involvement in several complaints against him. She also stated that he falsified the results of the breathalyzer test.

Judge Souter found Ms. Hill guilty of driving-while-intoxicated. This conviction has recently been upheld by Superior Court Judge Thomas DeMartin.

generation of students," he said.

Princeton and Ridgewood are both classified by the State as "J" districts, which means they have a similar socio-economic makeup. Each town has a population of approximately 25,000. Yet there is one striking difference: Ridgewood has a total of nine schools — one high school, one middle school, and six elementary schools. This contrasts with Princeton's two elementary schools.

According to Dr. Maiocco, Ridgewood is known for having the least number of students of any district in the State attending private or parochial schools.

Dr. Maiocco and his wife, Joan, an accountant, will begin house hunting in Princeton shortly. The couple has a son, Josh, who is a fine arts major at Curry College in Massachusetts.

They are both interested in music and art, and Dr. Maiocco noted happily that "there appeared to be a lot of that close to home."

A British Policeman's Visit to Princeton Police Triggered by Paper Written by Chief Carnevale

Resplendent in his black uniform with silver insignia, Brian T. Gleeson, LL.B, D.M.S., Superintendent of Police for the Cleveland Constabulary in England, paid a visit to Princeton this month.

This is Superintendent Gleeson's first visit to the United States and Princeton was his second stop on a two-month tour that will take him to various police departments and companies around the country to see how they motivate and keep their personnel physically fit for the job.

After one week here, Superintendent Gleeson could say this about the USA: "It is everything I thought it would be and more. I'm very impressed with the friendliness and openess of the people. You do hear a lot about American hospitality; it's proved to be quite true."

LIKE A DREAM COME TRUE is what Police Superintendent Brian T. Gleeson of the Cleveland Constabulary in England said of his trip this month to Princeton and the United States.

The same can be said about Superintendent Gleeson. He is the quintessential superintendent, the embodiment of every pre-conceived notion of what an English superintendent of police should look like.

The 45-year-old Gleeson is here on a $6,500 traveling fellowship grant funded by the Winston Churchill Memorial Trust, which each year grants fellowships to recipients to meet people and study subjects of special interest.

A one-time detective — for 12 years — Superintendent Gleeson is in charge of personnel training for the Cleveland Constabulary, an administrative county comprised of four towns in North Yorkshire. It is an industrial area on the northeast coast, some 250 miles north of London. The North Sea oil pipeline comes ashore in Cleveland County and it is home for steelmaking and plastic firms but unemployment is high. A frustrating 28 percent, notes Superintendent Gleeson, that triggers unrest and crime.

After a first stop in Fairfax County, Virginia, Superintendent Gleeson spent two days in Princeton. Other stops will include Harrisburg, Pa., Toronto, his sister city of Cleveland,

TOPICS
Of The Town

Ohio, two stops in Wisconsin, and the Cooper Clinic at the Institute for Aerobic Research in Dallas, which Superintendent Gleeson described as "the jewel in the crown, so to speak."

His tour will end at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center in Georgia. "Then I'll need a rest," he smiled. The final two weeks will consist of a vacation in New York and New England, accompanied by his wife.

Why Princeton? Superintendent Gleeson was in Princeton, he explained, because of a white paper that Borough Chief Michael Carnevale had written in the late 1970s and submitted to the Universal Gym Company in which he described a physical fitness testing program he had made mandatory for all his officers.

The information, in turn, was sent to the Central Planning Unit in Yorkshire, a unit which "trains the trainers," said Superintendent Gleeson. "So, in effect, Princeton has been heard of throughout England because of your chief's white paper." He received a quick "yes" he said, after he wrote Chief Carnevale earlier this year, asking if he could visit Princeton and observe its program. "I've been very well treated, given access to every facility."

The problem in England, explained Superintendent Gleeson, is that while officers maintain a high standard of physical fitness during a probationary two-year period, after that, it is up to each individual to keep himself physically fit. "Some do, some don't," he said. "The ones who don't are the ones I'm trying to encourage to keep themselves fit."

Comprised of 1,474 officers, the Cleveland Constabulary, reported Superintendent Gleeson, has just purchased a fitness-testing system that can accurately grade aerobic capacity. He is hopeful that he can encourage every officer to take the test and to introduce mandatory tests for officers with over two years' service.

Although his hair is greying, Superintendent Gleeson is obviously in good physical condition himself. He keeps in shape, he says, through weight training, jogging (he has run some half-marathons but not a full one) and by playing badminton, a racquet sport "which is not very popular over here."

Among his first impressions here, Superintendent Gleeson said that he was "quite plesantly surprised to see how close patrolmen were to the community. It's not the hard-bitten patrolman portrayed by television," he said, "but in actual fact the people seem to get along well with the patrolman and the patrolman has a nice relationship with the community."

Indeed, Superintendent Gleeson feels if police here could learn from their English counterparts they would put more men "out on footbeat. Not only would it keep them fitter but it would maintain contact with the police."

Part of the problem in England, he says, is that in bringing in more civilians to handle desk jobs, officers in their 40's, who had expected to keep their desk jobs, find themselves back out on the street dealing with youths. "They're finding it hard. They only have truncheons and a pair of handcuffs."

Yes, it is true. Police in Cleveland County still do not carry firearms. In fact, reports Superintendent Gleeson, there are strict restrictions on the use of a truncheon. If one is drawn, it has to be reported in writing at the end of the shift.

Violence on the Increase. Crimes of violence, especially sexual assaults, are on the increase in England, reports Superintendent Gleeson. It could reflect, in part, he feels, the changes in attitudes in dealing with women. A lot of incidents of physical violence that were never reported before are reported now, he said.

"We've always had physical violence — not so much against the police but directed against authority," continued Superintendent Gleeson, who added recent examples of hooliganism at football matches were an example. "Hence the correlation: officers have to be physically fit to deal with the physical violence. We've reorganized our resources to try to bring youths into more contact with the police."

Unfortunately, Superintendent Gleeson went on, unemployment in the United Kingdom is a serious problem, especially with blacks. Police there, he said, have tried to encourage blacks to join the force without a great deal of success. "They feel they are betraying their color."

Still, he feels his country can emulate this country. It can have an interracial police force that will be effective in dealing with the black community.

Because unemployment dissatisfaction felt by the black community is exploited by extreme radicals, observed Superintendent Gleeson, police try to counteract this with youth programs. But a 28 percent unemployment spawns not only problems for the black community but all its attendant scourges: vandalism, hooliganism and youths running around the streets.

There are, he has noted, a number of jobs available here. "A lot of the jobs I see are for unskilled workers. It's a pity Cleveland isn't nearer Princeton; we could bring some of our kids here."

Like Home Town. Princeton, says Superintendent Gleeson, is very much like his home town of Guisborough. "Although we haven't got a university, it reminds me of home. It's very pleasant. You have a hit of history here. It seems to have mixed in very nicely with modern times, especially the motor car. This is very much a car-owning society."

Superintendent Gleeson has gotten his information firsthand. During his visit here, he had stayed at a motel on car-oriented Route 1.

His dominant impression of the United States, however, has been its bigness. In England we fail to appreciate, he said, what a vast country this is. "What looks small on the map takes all day to get to." Another impression is our reaction to those distances: "So it's a couple of hundred miles. So what."

A final observation by Superintendent Gleeson — on newspapers. Said he, "You do go into depth in reporting the news. The New York Times, The Washington Post ... how do you read all that news? Most English papers can be read in about ten minutes. I'm surprised you go into such depth; people must have a lot of spare time."

Behrman Award Winners In the Humanities Named

Prof. Robert C. Darnton and Prof. John V. Fleming of Princeton University have received the 12th annual Howard T. Behrman Awards for distinguished achievement in the humanities.

The prestigious awards were conferred by Princeton President William G. Bowen at a formal dinner on Saturday, May 9. Each consists of a bronze medal and a check for $5,000.

Recipients are chosen from among Princeton faculty members nominated by the chairmen of the University's humanitites departments and selected by an awards committee, of which Dean of the Faculty Aaron Lemonick is the chairman. The awards were established in 1975 with a gift from the late Dr. Howard T. Behrman, a noted New York dermatologist whose avocation was book collecting.

Before his death in 1985, Dr. Behrman created a multi-million-dollar endowment at Princeton to support numerous aspects of scholarly endeavor in the humanities, including permanent support for the Behrman Awards and for his great library of American literature, which he had also donated to the University.

Prof. Darnton, the Shelby Cullom Davis '30 Professor of European History, earned his baccalaureate degree at Harvard in 1960, graduating Phi Beta Kappa and winning a Rhodes Scholarship. At Oxford, he attained both the bachelor's and a doctorate in history. He was preparing at that point for a career in journalism, having been a stringer for the New York Times during his Oxford years.

He joined the Times on a regular basis in 1964 upon his return from London but soon was offered a post as a junior fellow at Harvard and returned there to spend the next three years. Prof. Darnton joined the Princeton faculty as an assistant professor in 1968, was promoted to associate professor in 1971 and to professor in 1972.

Prof. Fleming, a specialist in medieval literature, is the Louis W. Fairchild '24 Professor of English, professor of comparative literature, and chairman of the Department of English. A native of Arkansas, he is a 1958 graduate of the University of the South who also won a Rhodes Scholarship. At Oxford, he earned bachelor's and master's degrees and served for a year as an assistant tutor.

After receiving his doctoral degree from Princeton in 1963, he taught for two years at the University of Wisconsin before returning here to join the English Department in 1965. He was promoted to associate professor three years later and to professor in 1972. Prof. Fleming's scholarly interests are wide, including the full scope of European literature in the period from Augustine to Erasmus, and he has published numerous articles in addition to four books.

Special Funds Approved For Needed Services

The board of trustees of the United Way-Princeton Area Communities has approved $30,000 in special funding for seven area organizations.

The Arts Council will receive $1,000 to give five 10-week scholarships to school-age children from qualified families for participation in the after-school arts program. The Princeton Community Homemaker-Home Health Aide Service will receive $8,000 to be used towards the purchase of a van. The van will be used to transport home health aides to their assignments, participants to the Alzheimer's Day Program, and the elderly to medical appointments.

The Princeton Senior Resource Center was allocated $7,000 to hire a part-time coordinator who will recruit, train, place and supervise volunteers to visit and assist the homebound in the area.

Other recipients include the Children's Home Society, $5,000 for subsidized family day care. The grant would provide affordable child care and infant care by allowing the agency to recruit, train and supervise family day care providers in the greater Princeton area. Also, East Windsor Community Education will receive $5,000 for a program to assist the working poor in the East Windsor-Hightstown area who are unable to afford quality child care for their school-age children.

And the Mercer Unit, Association for Retarded Citizens will receive $4,000 to provide outreach and training to help child care providers and parents recognize and make appropriate referrals for special services for infants and pre-schoolers who have or are at risk of developmental delays or disabilities.

The awards were made in the areas of child care and services to the elderly, based on the Comprehensive Needs Assessment undertaken by the Princeton Area Council of Community Services, and upon the recommendation of the United Way's long-range planning committee. Two separate committees were formed to review requests for funding — one for child care proposals and another for elderly service requests.

Volunteers who reviewed child care requests included Len Thomas, chairperson, Pamela Kelsey and Jack Joyce, United Way trustees; Margaret Copeland, executive director of The Child Care Connection; and Sandy Goettinger, member of the board of the Princeton Area Council of Community Services and chair person of its child care committee.

The elderly proposal review committee consisted of Karen Woodbridge, chairperson, Richard Gilbert and William Patton, trustees of the United Way; Theresa Dietrich, New Jersey Division on Aging, and Karen Jeziernicy, Council of Community Services board member.

Apartments Are Entered On Dickinson Last Week

The apartments of three Princeton University students, all in the same building on Dickinson Street, were entered last week.

Someone climbed a fire escape and entered a second-floor apartment between 8:30 Monday night and 1:50 Tuesday morning by pushing in a screen and climbing through an unlocked window. Taken from a closet was a 35mm camera and six pieces of jewelry from a dresser drawer worth a combined $1,320.

The Wonderful 1986 DUBOEUF "FLOWER LABEL" BEAUJOLAIS Have Arrived At The Wine Source

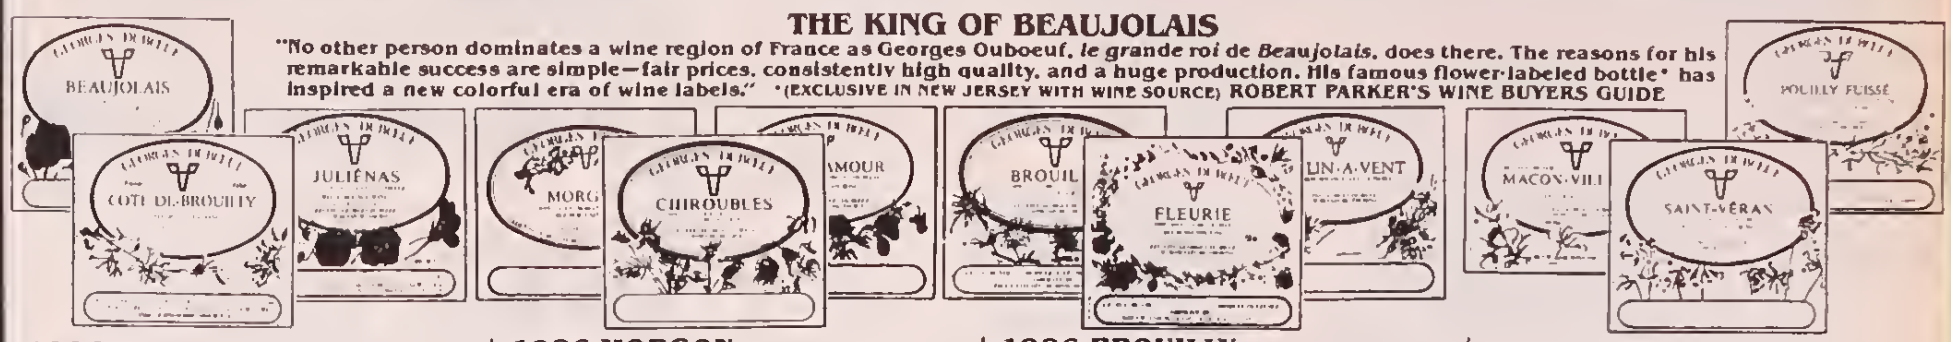
ALL FIRST PRIZE WINNERS

GEORGES DUBOEUF REPORTS BY TELEX ON THE DELICIOUS 1986 VINTAGE

"At harvest time the yields were generous and the quality of the grapes was good. Summer best gave the vintage its character: Firm, somewhat tannic but not at all austere—with plenty of fruit and finesse. The color is deep ruby, the aromas are elegant and stylish. On the palate the wines are fruity, charming and well-balanced."

THE KING OF BEAUJOLAIS

"No other person dominates a wine region of France as Georges Duboeuf, le grande roi de Beaujolais, does there. The reasons for his remarkable success are simple—fair prices, consistently high quality, and a huge production. His famous flower-labeled bottle* has inspired a new colorful era of wine labels." *(EXCLUSIVE IN NEW JERSEY WITH WINE SOURCE) ROBERT PARKER'S WINE BUYERS GUIDE



1986 BEAUJOLAIS VILLAGES

Subtle fragrance, delicate, fine, very pleasant. Harmonious wine, well balanced with outstanding fruit, very fine and elegant.

Beautiful aspect in color and limpidity. Good bouquet. Supple aromatic, very pleasant wine. Distinguished. A bottle with a future.

7.49 Bottle 85.38 Case

1986 JULIENAS

Beautiful ruby color. Very fruity with peach and cinnamon aroma. A solid wine, lively, generous, full of life and fruit. Fine tannins which will allow a good evolution.

7.49 Bottle 85.38 Case

1986 MORGON

Nose: excellent fruit and finess. Mouth: generous, fruity, harmonious, well balanced.

7.49 Bottle 85.38 Case

1986 CHIROUBLES

The favorite Beaujolais of the Lyonnais. Elegant, fine, distinguished, light. Easy to drink, with violet aroma.

7.79 Bottle 88.80 Case

1986 SAINT AMOUR

Beautiful color and bouquet. A very promising wine. Round, well balanced. A beautiful wine promises a beautiful future.

7.99 Bottle 91.08 Case

1986 BROUILLY

Supple, generous, finely fruity, well balanced. It will keep its qualities and its character during 2 to 3 years.

7.49 Bottle 85.38 Case

1986 FLEURIE

The idol of Beaujolais. The most asked appellation. The most lusted-after of the Beaujolais Crus. Harmonious, fruity, fine, elegant and distinguished.

8.99 Bottle 102.48 Case

1986 MOULIN-A-VENT

A complete wine. Excellent finess. Robust with an assertive character. A sovereign wine, self assured.

8.49 Bottle 96.78 Case

THE WHITES OF GEORGES DUBOEUF

1986 MACON VILLAGES

Bright and brilliant with a beautiful golden yellow color which says "Chardonnay". Flowery and fruity' aroma. Marvelous bouquet: fruit, finess and light.

5.99 Bottle 68.28 Case

1986 ST. VERAN

Very great quality. Remarkable for its pale green color, its fruity and flowery aroma (honey and honeysuckle). Harmonious, elegant, very pleasant. A great white burgundy wine.

88.52 For All 12 Bottles

MESONEROS DE CASTILLA, 1985

I cannot recall a wine with such immediate drinkability, coupled with a lush, fruity, delightful taste. It has all the qualities, and more, that has endeared Beaujolais to the world—but with a personality uniquely it's own.

Case of 12 ..... $56.88

PESQUERA TINTO RESERVA, 1982

The new star in Ribera del Duero. With vineyards next to Vega Sicilia, this wine is aged in cask (a la Bordeaux). The results are stunning. The 1982 is a staggeringly immense wine, rich, unctuous, with the depth and texture of a great Pomerol such as Petrus, or L'Evangile, plenty of ripe, round tannins, sweet oaky smells that typify a Spanish red, and unbelievable length. One of the world's great wines certainly the greatest red produced in Spain. A legend in the making.

MARQUES DE ARIENZO RIOJA WINES ARRIVE IN U.S.

The venerable house of Domecq has been making fine wine, sherry and brandy for 250 years, and its presence in the Rioja over the past 14 years has not only contributed to the overall productivity of the region. It has meant time for Domecq to develop some of the finest wines available today and emerge as a leading wine maker.

The Marques De Arienzo Vintage Wines being introduced to the American marketplace are:

MARQUES DE ARIENZO 1982

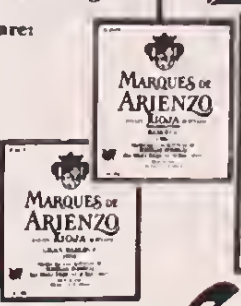
It is no ordinary event to be able to obtain as fine a Rioja as the 1982 Marques De Arienzo at under $5 a bottle. Delightfully fruity, well-balanced, with pleasing dryness—reminiscent of a fine Bordeaux. A remarkable value in wine excellence.

4.99 Bottle 50.89 Case

MARQUES DE ARIENZO GRAN RESERVA 1976

A rich, elegant red wine of exceptional quality, from an outstanding vintage year. Deep red, almost tawny-colored, with a robust flavor. A rare red wine treasure from Spain.

11.99 Bottle 122.29 Case



BORBONES, BRUT BODEGAS SARDA CAVA SPARKLING SPANISH WINE

From the heart of the high Penedes comes this perfectly well balanced sparkling wine (Methode Champenois). Made from the traditional grape varieties that grows in the area: Parellada, Macabeo and Xarello are kept in the underground cellar (cava) for over 16 months to achieve a finer end product.

$4.99

Case: $56.88

CHATEAU MORILLON 1985 BORDEAUX BLANC SEC

100% Sauvignon. Graves-like white Bordeaux. This intense well-structured white accents the Sauvignon grape. Light, fresh, and fruity with a particular gout de terre that makes it a perfect match for shellfish. It also lends itself admirably for use as an aperitif, appetizer and all fish dishes. Oh yes, It's a Gold Medal Winner.

3.99 Bottle 45.48 Case

CHATEAU TERTRE LALANDE 1985 BORDEAUX ROUGE

The perfect everyday red. Dominately Merlot and Caberoet Sauvignon, it combines elegance and finesse with intensity of flavor. It is not a wine that one tires of.

While police were investigating the above theft, a first-floor tenant at the same address told officers that a screen to her apartment had also been pushed in. A heater on the floor just inside the window had been knocked over as was a plant on the window sill. Nothing was taken and Capt. Thomas Michaud reported that police are not sure if the apartment was actually entered.

The same night — 9:30 to 11:30 — a thief climbed the same fire escape, pried open a screen with a screwdriver and this time climbed through an unlocked window to enter the third-floor apartment of two students. Taken were a Nikon camera from a table and a number of jewelry items, including necklaces, bracelets, rings, French and silver coins. Total value of the loss for both victims was placed at $2,450.

A Western Way home, its doors unlocked, was entered overnight during the weekend by a thief who removed a wallet and a woman's purse from a kitchen table. The total loss was in excess of $65.

The wallet and purse were later recovered by a Broadmead resident who turned them over to Princeton University security who, in turn, passed them on the Borough police.

Capt. Michaud said the wallet had contained $27, the purse $5 and personal items. They were found intact except for the cash

There was an apparent attempted entry late Friday night into the Nassau Mobil service station at the corner of Nassau and Olden Streets. Police, in responding to a sounding alarm at 11:20, discovered a window broken in the building and some fresh blood on equipment inside the window.

Police believe the suspect cut himself in reaching through the broken window and fled when the alarm sounded. Apparently, the burglar did not get inside, said Capt. Michaud.

Township police report a home on McCosh Circle was entered between 11:30 Friday night and 6:15 the following morning while the owners and guests were asleep upstairs. Police said the intruder walked onto a porch on the south side of the home, cut a hole in a screen and entered through a door.

Stolen from a bookcase shelf were a 35mm camera and flash valued at $225 and $150 from a wallet.

U-Store Plans Closing For Two Days in June

Princeton University Store, which is adding a fourth merchandise floor on top of its present structure on University Place, is planning to close Monday and Tuesday, June 1 and 2, for the raising of a steel framework for the addition.

However, if it rains, the store will remain open these days, since rain would prevent the work from being done.

West Windsor Township Opposes Rt. 1 Overpass

The West Windsor Township Committee last week voted unanimously to oppose a proposed overpass at the intersection of Route 1 and Washington Road. The meeting was attended by 107 residents of Penns Neck, who support the preservation of their village.

Referring to the New Jersey Department of Transportation (DOT) Route 1 Corridor Transportation Study, which states that this location is being considered for an overpass, the resolution emphasizes the identity, heritage, and character of Penns Neck.

It notes that the land was obtained from William Penn in 1737, and that it contains a church constructed in 1812, an inn built in 1808, and a cemetery with graves dating from the early 19th century.

The two-page resolution also points out that the DOT has actively discussed the high probability of a grade-separated interchange at Route 1 and Alexander Road, and notes that DOT guidelines prohibit grade-separated interchanges within one mile of each other.

It also states that Washington Road is a two-lane road not designed to accommodate any additional traffic and, in fact, is presently overloaded by the closing of the Harrison Street Bridge.

TRENTON ROUNDUP

Home Equity Loans

A bill that would greatly liberalize the laws governing home equity loans has been passed by the state Assembly. It now goes to Gov. Thomas Kean, who is expected to sign it into law.

Opposed by consumer groups, the measure would lift legal limits on interest rates for variable-rate loans and would permit lenders to write loans with large balloon payments at the end.

It would also ease penalties on violators, permit lenders to charge up-front fees and points at each refinancing, and allow an increase of interest rates during the term of a loan.

New Jail Cells

Final legislative approval was given to placing a $198-million bond issue for the financing of thousands of prison cells on the November ballot. Gov. Thomas Kean, whose administration has called for a drastic expansion of the state's overcrowded prison system, is expected to sign the legislation.

Voters will be asked to approve the $198 million for the construction of approximately 2,800 state and 500 county prison beds.

AIDS Testing

A state Assembly vote on mandatory tests for AIDS was postponed when Democrats refused to consider the measure on an emergency basis. The bill would require convicted prostitutes and rapists, and some persons convicted of drug law violations, to be tested for the AIDS virus.

Current law does not require mandatory AIDS testing for anyone in the state.

Unpaid Leave for Employees

A Senate committee has withheld action on a controversial bill that would require New Jersey's employers to offer up to 18 weeks of unpaid leave to new parents or employees whose children are ill.

Dozens of opponents, largely business organizations, engaged in a heated debate with representatives of women's and labor organizations, which are supporting the measure, during a hearing last week of the Senate Labor, Industry and Professions Committee.

The committee is expected to hold a second hearing on the bill, and will probably take action before the end of June.

Limited-Access Roadways

A state Senate Committee has approved legislation designed to limit access to state highways. The measure was sponsored by Sen. Francis McManimon, D-Hamilton Township, who pointed to Route 1 as an example of the problems that can arise when access is granted on an ad hoc basis.

Borough Man Is Subdued After Assault on Police

A 33-year-old man, who poliee believe was under the influence of marijuana laced with PCP (angel dust), was finally subdued last week after assaulting two police officers who were investigating the report of a disturbance in a Quarry Street home.

Michael A. Sims, whose last known address is Quarry Street, has been charged with assault, criminal mischief and being under the influence of a controlled dangerous substance. He was later released when he calmed down and is scheduled to appear June 3 in Borough Court.

Sgt. Donald Dawson and Ptl. Steven Riccitello had responded to a 1:30 call Saturday morning reporting the disturbance. When they arrived the officers found a resident on the sidewalk in front of her house and heard sounds of crashing and thrashing inside.

As soon as Sgt. Dawson entered the house, he was grabbed at the throat by the suspect, who then started to choke him. Pushed back by the attack, the officer fell through the front door, breaking the glass.

Sims allegedly continued to kick and spit at the officers before he was finally wrestled to the ground, restrained and subdued. He had completely broken and destroyed things inside the apartment, said Capt. Thomas Michaud.

Sims was acting "in an extremely bizarre manner," added Capt. Michaud. All through the incident he was screaming that he was Jesus Christ, he said.

Sims was taken to Princeton Medical Center, where he was treated and released after observation. From there he was taken to police headquarters, charged and later released.

Neither officer required any medical treatment.

Nurse, Patrolman Struck. In another assault incident, Diane Rick, 31, of Nassau Street, has been charged with simple assault, after she punched a patrolman Saturday night and allegedly struck a nurse earlier in the evening.

Police were called at 11:32, reporting a woman had struck a nurse at the Princeton Medical Center and was leaving the emergency room. Ptl. Robert Currier encountered the suspect on Witherspoon Street and stopped her. As they were talking, Rick belted the officer in the face with her hand, knocking his glasses off. She was arrested and taken to headquarters.

Further investigation revealed that Rick was the same person who had struck a nurse in the face in the waiting area of the hospital emergency room.

The nurse, reported Capt. Michaud, declined to sign a complaint against Rick, but Ptl. Currier did. She faces a June 3 bearing in Borough court.

At the time, police said Rick was not being treated for anything.

Cut with Meat Cleaver. Earlier in the week, an allegation over the theft of some food apparently triggered an assault on an employee in the kitchen area of Wilcox Hall on the Princeton University campus.

Thomas C. Kidd, 33, of Trenton, has been charged with aggravated assault and possession of a weapon for unlawful purpose. Arraigned the same day — last Wednesday — before Borough Judge Russell W. Annich Jr., who set bail at $5,000, Kidd was later released in 10% bail and his case forwarded to a Mercer County Grand Jury for possible further action.

Police responded to an 11:20 call in the morning, reporting that an employee had backed another employee into a corner and was threatening him with a meat cleaver. When a third employee tried to intervene, Kidd allegedly chased after him, too. Police managed to restrain Kidd but when they questioned him, he denied any assault.

However, one of the victims, Capt. Michaud reported, had a small laceration on the side of his face, and after interviewing the two victims and witnesses, police placed Kidd under arrest.

A further investigation revealed that Kidd had grabbed the first victim by the throat and had dragged him into a large walk-in refrigerator where he allegedly made threatening gestures with the cleaver as if to strike him. Capt. Michaud said he did make contact with one, which resulted in the small cut on the right side of the victim's face.

Bicyclist Is Struck By Car on Ewing St.

Fourteen-year-old Salvadore Balestrieri of 292 Olden Street was struck by a car Thursday when he emerged from a driveway on his bicycle into the path of a car. He was treated at Princeton Medical Center for leg injuries.

There were no charges by Ptl. David Cromwell against the driver, Diane J. Reach, 36, 279 Ewing Street. Ms. Reach told the officer she applied her brakes, but was unable to avoid skidding into the cyclist, causing him to fall from his bike. Her car left 25 feet of skid marks at the 5:30 p.m accident scene.

3 Drivers, 3 Charges. Three drivers were each charged with careless driving following a three-car accident last week on Route 206 between Red Hill and Cherry Hill Roads. All three were treated at Princeton Medical Center for minor injuries and all three cars had to be towed from the scene.

According to a report by Ptl. William Potts, a 1984 sedan operated by Jane K. Marleynorthrup, 23, of Trenton, braked, and slid into the car in front of her, when the car in front stopped quickly. An '87 T-Bird, traveling behind, driven by Janet D. Cook, 21, 194 Cold Soil Road, then skidded hard into the rear of the Marleynorthrup car.

Traveling behind in line in a 1987 Camaro, Heather H. Harrison, 18, of Kendall Park told Ptl. Potts that the next thing she knew it looked like the car in front had hit a wall. "Pieces were flying everywhere. I panicked and applied my brakes."

Her car then skidded into the rear of the Cooke car.

Car Hits Bridge Wall. A driver and three passengers, all residents of Trenton, sustained minor injuries and were treated at the hospital, after their car sideswiped the Stony Brook Bridge on Mercer Road and hit a guard rail.

The driver, Marie L. Guirand, 22, told Ptl. Robert

Buchanan that she was traveling about 35 to 40 miles an hour when she tried her brakes, causing her car to slide into the bridge.

Damage to her 1977 Skylark was minimal but Ms. Guirand was issued a summons for careless driving. The mishap occurred 11:19 last Tuesday evening.

Three Drivers Fined In Township Court

Three Princeton area residents were fined last week in Township court.

Michael J. Cosgriff, 186 Pennington-Harbourton Road, Pennington, was fined $65 for speeding 62 in a 45-mile zone, and Jacquelin A. Hayes, 30 Gristmill Drive, Belle Mead, paid $65 for speeding 48 in a 25-mile zone. Lisa Lester, 341 Pyne Hall, Princeton University, was fined $25 for leaving her car parked for five days in a 48-hour parking area, violation of a Township ordinance.

33 Births Are Reported At Medical Center Here

Parade Friday at 7

The Annual Memorial Day Parade, sponsored by Princeton American Legion Post 76, will begin at 7 p.m. at Princeton Avenue. Marchers will proceed down Nassau Street to the Battle Monument at Borough Hall, where ceremonies will be held.

Borough, Township, and American Legion officials, the U.S. 19th Army Band, the Gino Mule Band, and the Volunteers Senior Drum and Bugle Corps of Lambertville will participate in the ceremonies. The Rev. David B. Cousin, of Mt. Pisgah Church, will give the prayer and benediction.

In another Memorial Day event, Princeton Post 76 Color Guard and firing squad will take part in a Military Mass at St. Paul's Church at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday.

The Post has placed 1,200 American flags at St. Paul's, Princeton, and other area cemeteries. Post 218 assisted.

On Sunday at 9:30 a.m. Post 218 will conduct memorial services at the flagpole at Princeton Cemetery, near the caretaker's cottage.

Reunion Days Scheduled By Princeton Day School

Princeton Day School alumni are invited to the school for two days of reunions on Friday and Saturday.

Back-to-School Day begins at 10:30 a.m. on Friday. Guests will tour the school on The Great Road, visit classes, and join students and faculty for lunch.

Saturday's festivities begin at 11 when interested alumni will gather at PDS and set off on a tour of 171 Broadmead, home of Princeton Country Day School before its merger with Miss Fine's School to form PDS. Lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. in Colross on campus. During the afternoon alumni will reminisce on tape and add to the PDS archives.

Cocktails will be served at 5:30 p.m. under the tents. At approximately 6 p.m. the 1987 Princeton Day School Alumni Award will be presented to Polly M. Miller, Class of 1963 and longtime Princeton resident, for her service to PDS and the community.

Mrs. Miller served as a trustee for Princeton Day School from 1979 to 1983 and as a member of the Alumni Council from 1973 to 1983. She founded the PDS Parents Association Values Committee. Seven PDS AFS students have been hosted by the Miller family, and numerous community youth programs, including safe rides, The Fund for Drug and Alcohol Abuse, and the Princeton Youth Council have flourished with her guidance and leadership.

Benefit Auction at Farm To Aid Urban Children

The Reading and Recreation Camp, a summer camp for urban children, will hold a fund-raising event Sunday, June 7, at the McDougald's Farm, Old Mill Road, Pennington.

Woody Woodford will auction off unusual articles and services at a live auction, which starts at 3:30, and is preceded by a silent auction at 2:30. Among the items to be auctioned is a "Great Gatsby Brunch," with champagne, croquet and music, and two outfits, male and female, to be worn at the brunch.

Other items include a month's supply of fresh eggs; a southern soul-food dinner; a one-hour airplane ride and a 40-minute helicopter ride; lots of fancy desserts, chair rushing and caning; several new high-tech tennis rackets and fudge by a "famous chocolate personage";

Also, 75 bulbs planted at your home, Rangers tickets; a gift certificate from a Hopewell shop; family photographs; a watercolor of your home; a weekend apartment on Society Hill in Philadelphia; and seasoned wood delivered to your home. Also, back by popular demand, a day at Bloomingdale's in New York City, complete with a continental breakfast, time with a decorator and personal shopper, and lunch and a tour of the store. Pippin, a Shetland pony, is on the auction block, plus a quantity of manure for gardeners.

While the adults are engrossed in the bidding, children can romp around the farm, jumping on the trampoline, swinging on the swings and having fun on the pony and hay rides. There is also the space trolley, a 100-foot ride which is very popular with the young. A cookout supper with hot dogs, hamburgers and desserts will settle what to have for Sunday supper.

The proceeds from the day go to the Reading and Recreation Camp, which for 21 years has given youngsters from Trenton the opportunity to spend summer days in the suburbs away from the heat of the city while improving their reading skills. The program began with 50 city kids who went to homes in the area, where they read and participated in various outdoor activities.

It has since grown into a camp program for about 130 youngsters. For six weeks those age 6 to 12 are bused to the Timberlane School in Pennington for a full day of activities, which includes reading instruction under the supervision this year of Princeton Middle School teacher Evelyn Counts.

The teenagers 13 to 15 will go on a series of outings for two weeks to learn to swim, hike, paddle a canoe and play tennis. The camp is funded primarily by a private charitable trust. The auction helps pay for the counselors' salaries and the campers' tuitions.

Charlie Bethea of Trenton, who was a second-grader and one of 12 siblings when he was one of the first participants in the program 21 years ago, is now a member of the camp's board of directors, having served as a junior counselor and then head counselor. He continues his connection with the camp, inspiring other Trenton residents with his enthusiasm and loyalty.

For further information on the auction, call Dorothy Katz, 737-2039, Bobby Cooper, 466-1239, or Dorothy Schmidt, 737-1588.

Two Doctors Victims In PMC Wallet Thefts

Two doctors had their wallets stolen early last week from a lab changing room on the fourth-floor of the Princeton Medical Center.

One doctor returned less than an hour later, police said, when he realized he had left his wallet in his lab coat. He lost $45. A day later, another doctor left his sport jacket containing his wallet in the same changing room while he was making his morning rounds. The thief took the $50 jacket and the wallet containing $200.

A Plainsboro resident left her small clutch purse Friday night in the Tap Room at the Nassau Inn. When she returned a half-hour later at 11:15, the purse, valued at $35 but containing no cash, had been stolen.

Trenton police report a Princeton resident was the victim of a purse-snatcher last week while she was standing alone on West State Street. The purse contained $800 in traveler's checks and $250 in cash. Police there identified the victim as Muriel Palmer of Constitution Hill East.

A Princeton University student joined the list of theft victims when someone stole a Walkman radio-cassette player valued at $122.50 while the victim was taking a break at the schools' computer center off Prospect Avenue. The radio was stolen from the student's study desk.

While a Princeton resident was working out last week in the weight room at the Princeton YMCA, he left his wallet in a Y locker. There was no lock to lock the locker, however, which made it easy for a thief to steal the wallet containing $20.

A black couple entered the Village Collection store on Palmer Square last week and while the woman kept the clerk distracted, her male companion began looking at items on a rack at the rear of the store. When the two departed, the clerk discovered that a khaki shirt and matching pants, valued at $44, was missing.

The man was described as about 22, 6-2, medium build with a cast on his left hand. He was carrying a black leather jacket and wearing dungarees. The female suspect is described as about 25, 5-5, 135 pounds with an afro hairstyle.

An unlocked, 18-speed Schwinn bicycle, valued at $500, was stolen last week from a rack in the Blair Hall archway on the university campus. The theft was reported to Borough police by a university security member.

Township police report a Rocky Hill resident lost $20 when she left her purse unattended in her child's stroller while shopping Monday in Epstein's in the Princeton Shopping Center. The victim's wallet, which is valued at $25, was removed from the purse.

Parked Cars Robbed. A number of parked cars in the Township — all of them unlocked in the same general area — were robbed early last week.

A stereo cassette valued at $500 was stolen from a 1984 Saab parked in the driveway of its Winant Road owner. Police said the contents of the glove compartment had also been emptied. The same night, 30 cents was stolen from a Volvo, 50 cents from a Subaru and $1.20 from a Toyota, all parked on Russell Road.

The same area, same time, two unlocked cars on Vreeland Court were entered and ransacked. Eight dollars was stolen from an Audi and $3 from a Pontiac. Although the cars were ransacked, police said cassette tapes were left behind.

Health Screenings Set

Two health screenings for Princeton residents have been scheduled for the week of June 1.

On Wednesday, June 3, the Princeton Regional Health Department will sponsor a screening from 2 to 3 p.m. at Elm Court, Elm Road. Blood pressure testing and hemocult slides for colorectal cancer will be distributed for home use. Persons found to have blood in their specimens, or abnormally high blood-pressure readings, will be referred to their private physician for follow-up.

On Friday, June 5, the Health Department, in cooperation with the Department of Community Health Services of the Princeton Medical Center, will sponsor a screening session from 5 to 7 p.m. in the Community Room of Epstein's Department Store.

A registered nurse will present self-breast examination instruction to women. In addition, blood pressure testing and hemocult slides for colorectal cancer screening will be provided.

There is no cost to residents, who will be screened on a first-come, first-served basis. Appointments are not necessary.

Mail-in Registration Set For Y's Summer Events

A summer of programs and events are offered by the YWCA as an alternative to "There's nothing to do."

Adults, teens, and children will find numerous choices in gymnastics, aquatics, dance, and fitness as well as other pursuits in the youth and adult departments and at the YWCA summer camps.

Among the offerings for the upcoming session is a series of New Jersey farm tours. Other tours include visits to Amish Country, New Hope by barge, Baltimore's Inner Harbor, and South Street Seaport after cruising around Manhattan. Those who wish to stay closer to home may join several walking tours of the Princeton area.

The award winning gymnastics team is the culmination of a program that encourages flexibility and coordination beginning with infants. The summer clinic for the gymnastics team prepares participants for competition in the fall. The aquatics program features parent/child classes for the very young and day or evening classes for youth.

Adults may learn to swim or use their skills in such classes as water aerobics and early morning swims. Therapy is provided in the arthritis and rehabilitation swim program while adapted aquatics helps the child with physical or mental impairment enjoy water exercise.

The Health and Fitness Department encourages exercise and its healthful benefits in aerobics, total fitness, and speciality exercises featuring Judo, Tai Chi, Yoga, Aikido, and pre- and post-natal exercise. Children and adults may take part in ballet classes taught by qualified teachers. The computerized fitness evaluation will help individuals decide which fitness program is right for them.

The Youth Department continues messy play for toddlers and its popular pre-school potpourri. Puppet workshops are available for boys and girls age five to eight. Teens may sign up for SAT/PSAT workshops that begin in August.

Other YWCA special events include an Artisans Guild trip to Peter's Valley Craft Fair, Delaware Water Gap, on July 25, and a job search series presented by TWIN (Tribute to Women and Industry) on Thursday evenings beginning June 4. The Breast Cancer Resource Center continues information and support services for women before and after surgery.

Most classes begin June 22. The summer brochure with its mail-in registration form has been sent to members. Those who are not a member and wish to receive a copy, call or visit the Princeton YWCA, Paul Robeson Place, 924-5571.

Registration Underway For YWCA Day Camps

The YWCA is registering children age 2½ through sixth grade in its summer camp programs to be held at the Paul Robeson Place facility and at Stuart Country Day School.

Now in its 18th year, the YWCA summer camp offers swimming, arts and crafts, athletics, nature study and music.

Summer Carousel, the program for preschoolers, is an introductory camp experience geared to meet the needs of small children. It is divided into three age groups. For 2½ year olds and three year olds,

Toddler Fun Club offers a morning program featuring a flexible schedule and relaxed atmosphere in which children can grow at their own pace and make new friends. Offered Tuesday and Thursday mornings, this program runs June 30 to August 6.

Toddler Fun Club is offered separately to three- and four-year olds Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings, June 26 to August 7. According to Susan Frenchu, camp director, the activities are tailored to the needs of the older preschooler.

The YWCA offers four- and five-year olds camp activities daily, Monday through Friday from 9:15 to 1:15. Recreational swimming is an added feature for this age group. The four- and five-year-old section of Summer Carousel includes an extended day option which runs until 4:15 daily. Six one-week sessions are scheduled between June 29 and August 7.

For youngsters completing kindergarten through sixth grade, the YWCA Day Camp features arts and crafts, environmental awareness, athletics, vocal and instrumental music, dance, games, creative dramatics, nature study, Red Cross swim instruction, and day trips. This summer campers will have an opportunity to pre-register for a special activities period each session.

Campers will choose an activity from a passive and an active category. The choices include special instrumental music, advanced crafts, racquetball, aikido and gymnastics.

As part of the instructional swim program, the day camp will offer a mask, fin and snorkel program for those who qualify.

The day camp for kindergarteners through sixth graders, is accredited by the American Camping Association and takes place at Stuart Country Day School. The program is directed by Lois Altschul, a YWCA staff member of the YWCA who has had many years of camp experience. Three two-week sessions are offered June 29 to August 7.

Financial assistance for all YWCA summer camps is available on a first-come first-served basis. Information on rates, dates, programs, facilities, and special rates for siblings is available by calling the YWCA at 924-5571 for a camp brochure.

Early registration is advised.

Eleven Women Named For YWCA TWIN Awards

Eleven area women received Tribute to Women and Industry (TWIN) awards at a banquet Friday at AT&T corporate headquarters. Brenda Davis, Governor Kean's chief of policy and planning, was the keynote speaker.

The TWIN program, established nationally in 1975 and adopted by the Princeton YWCA in 1984, honors outstanding women in executive, managerial or professional roles and pays tribute to the sponsoring corporations for contributing to the advancement of women in business and industry.

The 11 area women are Joan Abbott of Gallup & Robinson; Adele Agin, Amper, Politziner & Mattia; Kay Bender, Squibb Corporation; Carolyn Burk, Independent Educational Services: Alison Harris, McCarter Theatre; Wilma Jancuk of AT&T Engineering Research Center;

Also, Lorrie Janick, Princeton Nautilus Fitness Center; Barbara A. Keller, Commodities Corporation; Lois T. McElligott, Union Camp Corporation; Antoinette Orsi, Educational Testing Service, and Edythe A. Worrell, Bell Atlanticom award, the women must first be recommended by their employers and then selected by an independent review committee. During the coming year, the nominees will donate time to speaking at career-oriented programs, both at the YWCA and in the schools. They will act as advisors to mature women seeking internships through the YWCA.

This fall, TWIN will launch two new projects. For the first time, area business groups will be able to hold catered husiness breakfasts and brunches at the YWCA's new Bramwell House. In addition, TWIN will be opening an informal library of career search resources and information ahout area corporations and employment opportunities.

New YM Staff Member For Member Relations

Lee Nohle has joined the YMCA staff as director of member relations. A resident of Princeton for two years, Ms. Noble's responsihilities will include communicating with the YMCA membership, managing the front office, setting up a computer system and organizing non-physical adult programs.

Ms. Noble has worked as a career counselor at Princeton University and as assistant director of career planning and placement at De Pauw University in Greencastle, Ind. Earlier, she taught physical education and coached at the high school level.

Sports Alley, Art Tent Featured at June 13 Fete

This year's Sports Alley, at the June 13 Fete, will offer 15 games. Among these, and new this year, is a totally enclosed batting cage, where people may try to hit as many balls as possible.

Another new game, the Buoy Toss, allows players to toss buoys and try to ring the arms or heads of wooden figures.

The Art Tent, called "Rainbow Pier," will feature demonstrations of china painting and gold and silver sculpting. Mark Rosenbaum will offer framed prints of Princeton, and Linda Long will display her "doorways" posters.

In addition to a wide variety of painting and sculpture, there will be pottery, prints, and jewelry available at the tent.

Rainbow Pier will have a champagne preview from 6 to 8 p.m. on June 12, before the Fete Friday night dance.

Arthur Schlesinger, Jr. Speaker at Graduation

Writer and historian Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. will be guest speaker at Trenton State College's commencement ceremonies on Friday, May 29. He will address a gathering of more than 5,000 students and their families, faculty, administrators and friends expected to attend the outdoor ceremonies. The academic procession onto Quimby's Prairie will begin at 1 p.m.

A historian, author, and political advisor, Mr. Schlesinger is currently Albert Schweitzer Professor of Humanities at City University of New York. He served in the White House as a special assistant to President John F. Kennedy, and before that was professor of history at Harvard University.

General Alarm Sounded For Wittmer Court Fire

A general alarm was sounded for a Tuesday morning fire in a home at 50 Wittmer Court.

Police were called at 6:56 by a neighbor who noticed smoke coming from the house. A general alarm was sounded at 7:03 after police, in responding, located the source of the smoke as coming from an outlet behind the refrigerator.

The fire spread to the wall behind the refrigerator and to kitchen cabinets. Heat from the fire blackened the wall and melted the back of the refrigerator.

Firemen from Engine Companies No.1 and No.3 responded and spent two hours at the scene, using fans to clear the interior of smoke. One fireman reported there was a considerable amount of smoke and water damage to the kitchen.

No one was injured. The owner told firemen it was the second time that the outlet had shorted and caught fire.

Zoo-on-Wheels Scheduled At H. Gross & Company

The Philadelphia Zoo-on-Wheels will arrive at H. Gross & Co., Palmer Square, on Tuesday at 3:30. This year's theme is "Going A.P.E." Animals, People, and Ecology," and the presentation includes reptiles, birds, and mammals Participants can pet a ferret, prairie dog, or king snake, and learn about exotic animals and endangered species.

This "hands-on" program will be led by traveling naturalists from the Philadelphia Zoological Society. The animals will be in cages in front of H. Gross & Co.

STOP E.T.S.

FROM BRINGING TOTAL GRIDLOCK TO THE STREETS OF PRINCETON

ETS proposes to build over one-half million square feet of commercial office space in the open space at Carter and Rosedale Roads.

ETS is asking for authority to rent this space to commercial businesses.

Worse yet, ETS proposes to construct this massive development in a rural residential area of our community.

This huge project (one-half the size of the Empire State Building in New York City) is wholly insensitive and unnecessary.

In addition, ETS' new real estate venture would be in gross violation of the special covenant that originally allowed ETS to conduct limited educational research activities in our community.

If approval for this gigantic office park is granted, we can count on gridlock on all the feeder streets running south, east and west through Princeton.

Traffic on Nassau Street, Hodge, Cleveland, Mercer, Wiggins, Hamilton, Province Line and Elm Roads will be intolerable.

If ETS wants to spend their huge reserves* in profit-making real estate developments, let them do it on Route One.

competing with several area townhouse developments.

David Nelson of Geddes Brecher Qualls Cunningham, architect for the project, described the social and environmental concerns around which the development was planned. The design reflects an attempt to create a sense of neighborliness as well as identity of place for the residents, Mr. Nelson said.

The majority of the units are townhouses with one or two parking spaces in front and gardens in back. The townhouses are grouped on courts to give a British "mews" atmosphere, rather than around parking lots.

Courts in turn are grouped around four paved squares, with a 50-foot diameter planted circle in the middle. The squares provide overflow parking, access for mail delivery and for emergency vehicles, Mr. Nelson said. The entire project is linked by a pedestrian walkway that makes it possible to get from the units close to Cherry Valley Road to those by the entrance off Route 206 without crossing the perimeter roadway.

Township Mayor Gail W. Firestone raised the issue of play space for teenagers, which was also taken up by several other board members. There are several "tot-lots" provided, and there is a large open space of almost an acre in the middle of the entire project, around which a double row of plane trees are planned.

Mr. Nelson said he thought this area would provide space for touch football, Frisbee-throwing and pick-up softball, but board members Margen Penick and Mildred Trotman were opposed to the idea of recreation in the middle of the project because neighbors would object to the noise. Mrs. Penick asked if PCH could rent space on the adjacent Arcaro tract.

Still unresolved but under negotiation is whether the Arcaros, father and son, will sell the land needed for a seven-acre detention basin to serve not only the PCH tract but the Princeton Ridge development and any development that the Arcaros themselves may wish to undertake. If off-site storm water detention in this basin is not available for Herrontown Green, PCH will have to redesign its site plan to accommodate storm water on-site.

Not only would this add to the cost of the project, but many units would be lost in the process, and this could damage the economic viability of the project. It was suggested that the regional detention basin could be put to recreational use as well, since it theoretically accumulates water only in severe rain storms. But Township Engineer Robert V. Kiser said that the site proposed for this basin is wooded and wet most of the time.

Gary Davies of Garmen Associates, traffic consultants to the Township, spoke of the "master plan" that his firm had "knit together" to help the traffic situation in the Cherry Valley Road-Route 206 area. Part of the plan is to get Princeton Gateway Corporate Campus to move the driveway to its northernmost office building from opposite Hillside Avenue to opposite the Herrontown Green entrance. RH Development has begun site work on the first of two office buildings totalling roughly 63,500 square feet on land off Route 206, which includes the former Mary Watts building.

If traffic counts warrant it, a traffic light could be installed at the intersection, which would help motorists trying to enter and exit the office development as well Herrontown Green residents, Mr. Davies pointed out. In time, Hillside Avenue might be closed in a cul de sac by Route 206, he said.

Mr. Davies said that the Herrontown Green project will not be "a large traffic generator," generating less traffic than if it were single-family homes and much less than if it were office buildings. He projected 165 cars in the morning peak hour and 215 in the evening peak hour. It would contribute 50 to 60 additional cars to the daily flow through the Cherry Valley-Route 206 intersection, which he termed a small percent of the total number going through that intersection on a daily basis. Garmen Associates, the Planning Board and the Township Engineering office are trying to persuade the Department of Transportation to make Bunn Drive a major intersection for Route 206 and S-92 in Princeton rather than Cherry Valley Road.

Although neighbors are concerned that the Herrontown Green internal road, which is to be called Griggs Road, will become a cut-through for traffic trying to avoid the Cherry Valley-Route 206 light, Mr. Davies said "there is no easy solution" in the trade-off between providing a wide enough road for emergency vehicles and keeping cars from cutting through. He said he thought that curves in the internal road will keep it from becoming a "straight-away" cut-through.

Internal parking was also discussed at length. The plan allows 1½ cars per unit, the same as Princeton Community Village, but there was concern that this was not enough, and that spillover would park on Hillside Avenue. There was also discussion of whether N.J. Transit could be persuaded to reinstate the loop bus to take in Redding Circle and Princeton Community Village, as well as Herrontown Green.

Two neighbors commented during the public hearing. Greg Wohar, who lives right next to the property at Route 206 and Hillside Avenue, voiced concern about proposed "accel-decel" lanes cutting into his property and asked that the entrance be moved farther south, away from his property. He also asked that a berm be erected along the Hillside Avenue property line, until the buffer planting could grow and screen the development. He was told that a berm would destroy existing trees.

Leonard Thomas, whose property abuts the tract at Cherry Valley Road side, thanked PCH for meeting with him and addressing concerns he raised at the concept review. However, he did not like the idea of one of the apartments being close to his property rather than townhouses. However, PCH has substituted a two-story for a three-story apartment in that location.

Chairman Hans Sander appointed Margen Penick and Robert von Zumbusch, chairman of the Site Plan Review Advisory Board, to a committee that will work out final landscaping and other details. Other members are Richard Henkel, James Sayen and Mr. Sander.

mathematicians for his study of the history of mathematics and astrology, particularly that of Greece, Babylonia and Egypt, and for his pioneering work in developing current reviews of mathematics. In 1977, he was elected to the American Academy of Sciences. An article in the American Mathematical Monthly that year said that Neugebauer "... has had more influence on the daily work of mathematicians and on the progress of mathematics in this century than any other individual ..."

Prof. Neugebauer, who is 87, is known among his colleagues at Brown for his devotion to teaching and to the University. The late Henry Wriston, when he was president of Brown, hired the Austrian mathematician in 1939 and gave him office space to continue his work when interference from the German government forced him to leave Denmark. While at Brown, he began publishing Mathematical Reviews, one of the first journals to use mathematical abstracts.

The Rosenberger Medal is not awarded annually, but is given only when the faculty determines the award is justified. Since 1919, when it was created, there have been only 19 recipients, including Charles Evans Hughes, the late Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, John D. Rockefeller Jr., a Brown alumnus, and most recently Howard Swearer, president of Brown.

Marine Lance Cpl. David S. Barclay, son of Arthur and Gail Y. Barclay, both of Princeton, has been promoted to his present rank while serving at Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. A 1982 graduate of Princetnn High School, he joined the Marine Corps in January, 1986.

Norman Goldstein, of Princeton Junction, was elected governor of 59 Lions Clubs in Mercer, Burlington, Ocean and Monmouth Counties at the 66th annual New Jersey Lions convention. He will succeed John E. Allen, of Freehold, as the leader of 2,100 Lions in the four-county district.

Mr. Goldstein, a safety engineer, is a former president of the West Windsor Lions Club and served in a series of key district and state posts. He is also active in a broad range of civic and professional groups.

Alvin Schwartz, 505 Prospect Avenue, autographed copies of his books at the 16th annual Children's Literature Cnnference at Drexel University in Philadelphia. He was also the keynote speaker for the conference, which addressed the role of humor in children's books.

Baritone Arthur Nelson, of Lawrenceville, sang The Stor-Spongled Banner at Veterans Stadium in Philadelphia before a Phillies baseball game.

Mr. Nelson has sung The Stor-Spongled Bonner at Giants Stadium in the Meadnwlands and at other events.

Beth Schaeffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Schaeffer, 35 Howe Circle, was selected as one of five young fashion designers to preview her Fall '87 collection at the 500 Club in New York. A graduate of Princeton High School and the University of Cincinnati, she began her own business in 1984.

Sgt. 1st Class Lawrence D. Lazar, son of Joseph D. and Beatrice R. Lazar, 395 Province Line Road, Hopewell, has been decorated with the second award nf the Army Commendation Medal in South Korea.

Herbert S. Bailey Jr., Canal Road, Griggstown, Director of Princeton University Press from 1954 to 1986, has received the 12th Annual Curtis Benjamin Award for Creative Publishing. The award, honoring a publishing career of exceptional creativity and innovation, was presented to Mr. Bailey during the annual meeting of the Association of American Publishers.

Alvin Schwartz

When he was named director of the Princeton University Press in 1954, Mr. Bailey became, at 32, the youngest director of a major press in the nation. His tenure was marked by a consistently distinguished list which earned a succession of literary awards, including the Pulitzer Prize, National Book Award, American Book Award, and Carey Thomas Award.

Mr. Bailey was instrumental in establishing the project to publish The Writings of Albert Einstein under the editorial direction of Professor John Stachel of Boston University. The first volume is due for publication in May.

Army National Guard Private Brian D. Shorter, son of Domingo T. Brown, 74 Lawn Park Avenue, Lawrenceville, has completed an Army motor transport operator course at Fort Dix, N.J.

Navy Airman Recruit Kenneth M. Bonderson, son of Robert H. Bonderson, 39 Kingswood Drive, Belle Mead, was graduated from Aircrew Survival Equipment School.

The National Endowment for the Humanities has awarded fellowships for full-time study, research and writing in the humanities to several members of the Princeton University faculty.

They are Sheldon Garon, assistant professor of history and East Asian studies, who is working on "Social Reform and Social Control in 20th-Century Japan"; Professor of Politics Fred Greenstein for a study of "Leadership in the Modern American Presidency"; Professor of History Daniel Rodgers, for work on "American Reformers and Socialized Europe: The Roots of the 20th-Century Welfare State"; and History Professor Jerrold Seigel for research on "Objectivity and the Subject in Modern French Thought."

Neill Seltzer, of Princeton, was elected to The Gold Key Society, a service organization at The Peddie School. He was also named to serve on the Faculty-Student Senate.

Katharine Brush, 45 Markham Road, was elected recording secretary of the Garden Club of America. A past president of the Garden Club of Princeton, she has served as chairman of the publications committee, chairman of Zone IV, and director of the Garden Club of America.

Marine Sgt. Warren C. Lewis, a 1978 graduate of Hopewell Valley High School, recently deployed to the Republic of Korea for exercise Team Spirit aboard the aircraft carrier USS Ranger, homeported in San Diego.

Five Princeton Day School upper school students and four middle schoolers have been recognized by the Delaware Tri-State Regional Scholastic Art Program.

Gold Key winners are Yi Chen, Sherri James, Sheila MacKay, Judy Smith, Kiki Wnlfkill, Hanah Zafar, Jud Henderson, Peggy Yoo, and Meg Young.

In addition to the Gold Key awards, Jud Henderson, Peggy Yoo, Meg Young, Sheila MacKay, and Judy Smith also won blue ribbon awards.

Marine 2nd Lt. Adrian S. Villaruz, son of Augusto A. and Amelita S. Villaruz, 370 Burnt Hill Road, Skillman, was graduated from The Basic School, Quantico, Va.

A 1982 graduate of Montgomery High School, he joined the Marine Corps in May 1986.

Arthur S. Link, George Henry Davis '86 Professor of American History at Princeton University, has been named one of 40 Fulbright 40th Anniversary Distinguished Fellows. He will give major addresses in Belgium, Luxembourg and the Netherlands on Woodrow Wilson and the new world order.

Prof. Link is the editor of the voluminous Papers of Woodrow Wilson, being published by the Princeton University Press and author of several books on Wilson.

Steven Mackey, assistant professor of music at Princeton University, has received one of five commissions awarded by the Serge Koussevitsky Music Foundation in the Library of Congress.

The spring concert by Dartmouth College's Barbary Coast Jazz Ensemble caps eight years of making music together for seniors George Farmer and Colin Mahoney.

Mr. Farmer is a pianist and son of Steve and Maxine Farmer of Philip Drive, and Mr. Mahoney, a drummer, is the son of Michael and Jean Mahoney of Dickinson Street. They began playing together in 1979 as freshmen with Princeton High School's Nassau Band and subsequently as members of the Studio Band. They won individual awards for their contributions to the group's winning performances at the Berkelee College and American Heritage Jazz Festivals in 1982 and 1983.

Members of the Barbary Coast since their freshman year at Dartmouth, they have played at various festivals in the United States and Canada and performed at the International Exposition in Vancouver in 1986. Together they have also organized several small combos for dances and club dates, both in Princeton and Hanover.

Mr. Farmer is a biochemistry major and Mr. Mahoney has majored in philosophy. Their joint career may not be at an end, however, since both plan to move to Boston after graduation.

Gilian Versfeld, daughter of Alma Versfeld of Lawrenceville, formerly of Princeton, and the late Alex Versfeld, has served an internship at the Office of Human Resources for Snyder County, Pa.

She is a student at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove, Pa., and a 1984 graduate of Princeton High School.

Esther Abrams, 157 Broadmead, attended the American Association of Retired Persons Health Care Leadership Conference in Washington, D.C.

Capt. Anthony G. Mucelli, son of Anthony M. Mucelli, 48-11 Fox Run, Plainsboro, has graduated from the air weapons controller course at Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla.

Anne Knudson-Fitzpatrick, president of Princeton Nautilus Fitness Center, has been named a member of the American Ski Racing Alliance "All Star Team."

Navy Seaman Recruit Karl R. Fox, son of Rodman S. and Elsie Fox, 46 Windsor Drive, Princeton Junction, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Ill.

Todd Bidwell, 469 North Harrison Street, has been named to the Dean's Honor List at Emerson College, Boston.

David J. Gross, Eugene Higgins Professor of Physics at Princeton University, has been elected to the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is one of 306 new fellows elected to the association.

Jennifer Riley, daughter of Robert and Susan Riley, Burd Street, Pennington, a senior at the Rutherford campus of Fairleigh Dickinson University, has been included in the 1987 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

Gregory W. Hang, a student at West Windsor-Plainsboro High School, has received a $1,000 scholarship award from the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants.

David F. Ruiz, son of Rosalia and Teofilo Ruiz, 13 Leigh Avenue, has been initiated into Phi Alpha Theta at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. Phi Alpha Theta is an international honor society in history.

Mr. Ruiz, a sophomore, graduated from Princeton High School in 1984.

Randall Crisci, of Princeton, has been named to the Dean's List in Drexel University's Evening College. He is a fourth-year student majoring in electrical engineering.

Elizabeth A. Mayer, of Skillman, and Evelyn P. Puchalek, of Princeton, have taken positions as programmers following their completion of the Career Programming course at the Chubb Institute in Parsippany.

Prof. Irving Lavin of the School of Historical Studies, the Institute for Advanced Study, has been honored by the Italian government for his contributions to the cultural life of Italy. He was awarded the annual medal of Cultore di Roma by the Instituto dei Studi Romani and presented by the mayor of Rome in ceremonies at the Palazzo dei Conservatori on the Capitoline Hill, Rome.

Because Prof. Lavin is currently presenting a series of lectures at the University of California, Berkeley, he was unable to accept the medal in person. It was accepted for him by the United States Ambassador to Italy and the director of the American Academy in Rome.

Prof. Lavin is an art historian, best known for his work on the Italian baroque sculptor Bernini.

Peter F. Biro, 34 Pine Knoll Drive, Lawrenceville, a student at Princeton Day School, and Lisa M. Marino, 1 Dennison Place, Plainsboro, a student at West Windsor-Plainsboro High School, have received college-sponsored Merit Scholarships from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Dr. Benjamin Silverman, 72 Philip Drive, was among a group of 13 doctors who visited Israel for an on-site comparative study of pediatric emergency care.

Prior to going to Israel, the physicians visited Mexico and Barbados. They conducted seminars in all three countries.

Second Lt. Terrie L. Silcox, daughter of John F. and Linda H. Silcox, Rural Route 1, Belle Mead, has completed a signal officer basic course at the U.S. Army Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga.

Jeanne Graves Praised For Work with Lost Pets

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Once again Mrs. Jeanne Graves of the Small Animal Rescue League has been invaluable in reuniting a family with its lost pet. She's been performing this miracle for nearly 30 years.

If only people would recognize the wonderful service offered by this organization, how many happy endings there could be to an otherwise sad situation.

When I hear of a lost or found animal my immediate reaction is to "call Mrs. Graves," next, to alert the Borough and/or Township Police, which involves officer Al Hevener, and then the Pet Patrol of WHWH. Following these steps a notice is put in the local papers. Also tags of identification are extremely important and helpful to these people.

There is a serious misconception among some that a "found" animal is taken to the shelter and put to sleep — this is simply not true. Mrs. Graves receives it through the police. The animal is checked by a veterinarian and treated if necessary. Then every effort is made to find either the owner or a good home.

I would like to add that any donations to SAVE is always welcome and appreciated.

New Child Care Center Plans a June Opening

Early Advantage Discovery & Learning Centers, Inc., a new child care center, will open in Monmouth Junction in early June. The 8,000-square-foot facility, adjacent to the Rutgers Community Health Plan Princeton office, has capacity for 200 children, making it the largest child care center in Middlesex and Mercer Counties.

The year-round center will be open ten hours a day and will provide care for children from six weeks to five years old. In addition, there will be a three-hour nursery school program for children ages two to five.

Although New Jersey requires only one licensed teacher, acting as head teacher, for center of up to 180 children. Early Advantage will have approximately 13 classes, each headed by a degreed teacher.

The center will provide a hot breakfast for both children and parents, and will dress children who arrive in pajamas. Planned, too, are a monthly newsletter and progress reports for parents. Early Advantage will also host evening parenting seminars on various topics of child development.

175th Commencement Set By Theological Seminary

Princeton Theological Seminary will graduate 265 students at its 175th Commencement exercises on Monday at 10 in the Princeton University Chapel. The ceremony will mark the official beginning of the seminary's 175th Anniversary Year, which continues until June, 1988.

Dr. Walter Brueggemann, professor of the Old Testament at Columbia Seminary in Decatur, Ga., will deliver the Commencement address to the graduates. His topic will be "Before Giants/Surrounded by Mother."

Dr. Brueggemann is a nationally known scholar of the Old Testament, recognized for his ability to write about Biblical themes in a manner compelling to scholar and lay reader alike. Among his recent books are The Prophetic Imagination, The Creative Word, David's Truth, The Message of the Psalms, and Genesis.

The Seminary will confer 165 master of divinity degrees, the basic professional degree for ministry in the Christian Church. In addition, 61 master of theology degrees will be conferred, 12 masters of arts, 14 doctor of ministry degrees, and 13 doctor of philosophy degrees. Of all degree recipients, 183 are men and 82 are women.

A baccalaureate service will be held for the graduates and their families on Sunday at 4 at the Nassau Presbyterian Church. Dr. Freda Gardner, professor of Christian Education and director of the Seminary's School of Christian Education, will preach on the topic "Again? Everyday?"

Walter Brueggemann

Temporary Relocation For Nassau Congregation

The congregation of Nassau Presbyterian Church will move to a temporary summer home on June 7.

The church has undertaken a $2 million building and renovation project which means that the sanctuary cannot be used during June, July and August. Therefore worship will be held in Miller Chapel on the Princeton Theological Seminary Campus beginning Sunday, June 7, at 10.

A banner will hang between the columns of the Nassau Street sanctuary to remind members and visitors that renovation is underway. During this time the sanctuary will be painted, carpeted and air-conditioned. A door will be cut through to the new wing of the church both on the balcony level and the street level.

For the summer, children in kindergarten or younger will be accommodated in the Trinity Church basement, while children in the first grade and older will join their parents in worship. Parking is available on the seminary campus behind the student center and next to Speer Library. The church staff will be glad to answer any further questions and can be reached at 924-0103.

The projected date of return to the renovated sanctuary is September 13, which will be "Homecoming Sunday" for the congregation.

Study of the Torah Set For Festival of Shavuot

The Jewish community will celebrate the Festival of Shavuot Wednesday and Thursday, June 3-4. This holiday comes seven weeks and one day after Passover, and thus is often called The Feast of Weeks. Physical freedom from slavery in Egypt was seen as a prelude to a spiritual devotion to God, and therefore this festival commemorates the giving of the Ten Commandments to Moses at Mt. Sinai.

Since the Torah (Five Books of Moses) was given at Shavuot, the custom has arisen to study late into the night, to immerse oneself in words of Torah and Jewish life. Rabbi and Mrs. Melvin J. Glazer are inviting members of The Jewish Center to their home on the first night of the Festival to study and learn together.

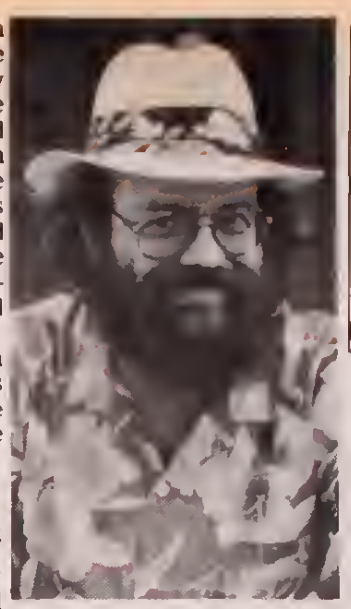
Folksinger Seminarian To Give Youth Program

Nassau Presbyterian Church, 61 Nassau Street, will sponsor a program on Sunday, May 31 at 6 for high school youth and their parents.

Richard Hill from Union Seminary, Richmond, Va., will lead a musical performance called, "Cousin Harold's Last Day of Vacation," which combines scripture and folk music as a commentary on the church's role in society.

Mr. Hill, a student at Union Seminary, is a part-time intern who helps street people and is involved in the campus ministry projects at Pace Memorial United Methodist Church. He writes songs dealing with social issues that were addressed by the prophets and Jesus as applied to today's setting. "Cousin Harold" will both entertain and stimulate family discussion about religious questions.

Call the church office, 921-0103 for reservations.



Richard Hill

Bulletin Notes

Elaine Nigam was elected president of the Unitarian Church at the annual meeting of the congregation. She will serve for a year, beginning July 1.

Mrs. Nigam has been an active member of the church for 10 years. During that time, she served as a church school teacher, made many contributions to the Religious Education Committee and was active in the Friday Morning Book Group.

For the past year, she was program vice president, a member of the Growth and Development Committee and was involved in small group and focus group meetings in which the congregation defined its future directions.

The Rev. Margaret Payne, the Rev. Gregg Kaufman, Mercia Bachmann and Milton Teske will be delegates to the last convention of the New Jersey Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, to be held in Ocean City on May 29-31. They represent the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church. Beginning on January 1, 1988 three Lutheran church bodies, the Lutheran Church in America (LCA), to which the Princeton Junction church belongs, the American Lutheran Church (ALC) and the American Evangelical Lutheran Church (AELC) will merge and become the Evangelican Lutheran Church in America (ELCA).

OBITUARIES

William W. Turnbull, 67, president of Educational Testing Service from 1970-81, died May 21 at Presbyterian Hospital, University of Pennsylvania Medical Center, Philadelphia.

Mr. Turnbull, who was the second president of ETS, is credited with have guided the organization through a period when it shifted from a testing organization, working primarily in the field of education, to an educational organization working through the medium of measurement. At the time of his death he held the title of distinguished scholar in residence at ETS and was serving as a member of the Educational Technology Task Force under the U.S. Secretary of Education.

Born in Canada, Mr. Turnbull attended the University of Western Ontario. His early research was as an assistant in a decompression chamber, testing volunteers under high altitude conditions. He came to Princeton University in 1942 for graduate work in psychology and within 18 months had earned both his master's and doctoral degrees.

While a graduate student on a fellowship, he also held two teaching assistant jobs and had a part-time post in test development at the College Board. Soon he became head of test development.

When ETS was founded in 1948, Mr. Turnbull was appointed vice president for test development, statistical analysis and research. He went on to become treasurer, executive vice president and then president, succeeding Henry Chauncey, founding president of ETS.

He wrote numerous articles for a wide variety of educational and psychological journals and was a recognized scholar in this country and abroad in such fields as measurement, guidance and educational policy. He was awarded numerous honorary degrees.

Mr. Turnbull was named a Fellow by the City and Guilds of London Institute in England in 1978 and was awarded a Founders' Medal of Honor for career contributions by Educational Records Bureau in 1979. In 1981 he was given special recognition by the National Art Education Association for his contributions to the profession and in 1983 he received the Monarch Merit Award for the National Council for Culture and Art for his contributions to the performing and visual arts.

He conceived and founded the Arts Recognition and Talent Search program that each year recognizes outstanding high school seniors in the areas of drama, visual arts, dance, writing, and instrumental and vocal music. He served on many national and international commissions and advisory boards and was active in numerous professional organizations.

He was a member of the Century Association, the Princeton Club of New York and the Nassau Club.

Surviving are his wife, Mary Turnbull; a daughter, Brenda Turnbull, and son-in-law Robert M. Tomasko, of Washington, D.C.; a brother, John H. Turnbull of Toronto, Canada; and two granddaughters, Laura and Julia Tomasko.

A memorial service will be held at a later date. Arrangements are under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to a memorial fund being established in his name for a fellowship or graduate scholarship program in educational and psychological assessment. Memorial contributions may be made to Educational Testing Service, Office of the Corporate Secretary, Princeton 08541.

Joseph A. Zenel, 65, died May 25 in Hamilton Hospital following a lengthy illness.

Born in Shamokin, Pa., Mr. Zenel was a Princeton resident since 1949 and was employed by RCA Laboratories for 38 years. He received five RCA achievement awards and also held several patents in the electrical engineering field. He received his undergraduate degree in electrical engineering from Bucknell University and a master's degree in the same field from Princeton University in 1956.

An Army veteran of World War II, he was a member of International Electronic and Electrical Engineers.

Surviving are his wife, Gail W. Zenel; two daughters, Susan G. Zenel of Washington, D.C. and Julie A. Zenel of Trenton; two sons, Joseph A. Zenel Jr. of Wyomissing, Pa., and James E. Zenel of Arlington, Va.; his mother, Veronica Zenel of Shamokin, Pa.; two sisters, Louise Zenel of Shamokin, Pa., and Eleanor Latzko of Newark, Del.; and a grandson.

Mass of Christian Burial was scheduled to be celebrated this Wednesday at 10 a.m. in St. Paul's Church with burial in Princeton Cemetery. Arrangements are under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton Public Library, 65 Witherspoon Street, Princeton 08540.

Hester Dyer Stover, 92, of Wiggins Street, died May 23 in Princeton Nursing Home.

Born in Milwaukee, Wis., Mrs. Stover lived in New York City for 64 years before moving to Princeton in 1984. She worked for the Federal Bureau of Investigation during World War I and during World War II worked in New York City for the Office of Censorship as director of prisoner of war mail. After the war, she was employed by Houbigant Co., a perfume manufacturer, in New York City.

Mrs. Stover was a graduate of Downer Seminary in Milwaukee and the New England Conservatory of Music.

Wife of the late John S. Stover Sr., she is survived by a son, John S. Stover Jr. of Princeton, three daughters, Polly S. Kahn of Brookville, L.I., Hester Osgood of DeWitt, N.Y., and Susan S. Soderman of Princeton; 19 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A memorial service was scheduled to be held this Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. in Trinity Church. Burial will be in Ferncliff Cemetery, Hartsdale, N.Y.

Jeffrey T. Durland, 25, of Plainsboro, died May 19 in Robert Wood Johnson University Medical Center, New Brunswick, of injuries suffered in an automobile accident on Dey Road in South Brunswick. He was a 1980 graduate of West Windsor-Plainsboro High School.

Surviving are his parents, Kenneth E. Sr. and Florence Dancer Durland; three sisters, Sharon Blechschmidt of New Holland, Pa., Florence LaBeur of Margate, Fla., and Grace Ann Durland of Plainsboro; two brothers, Kenneth E. Durland Jr. of Browns Mills and Charles M. Durland of Plainsboro; and his maternal grandmother, Grace Kuzma of Fairless Hills, Pa.

The service was held at the First Presbyterian Church of Plainsboro, the Rev. Michael Hicks, interim pastor, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Memorial Park, Robbinsville, under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Irene H. Lekas, 94, of Lawrenceville, died May 19 at the Lawrenceville Nursing Home.

Mrs. Lekas was born in Andros, Greece, and taught high school in Greece after her graduation from the Arsakeion in 1910. She came to the U.S. in 1912 and lived in New York City for 35 years before moving to Washingtonville, N.Y., where she lived for 30 years. She moved to Lawrenceville seven years ago.

She was a member of the Greek-American Philanthropic Association, the Washingtonville Senior Citizens and St. George Greek Orthodox Church, Trenton.

Wife of the late Peter A. Lekas, she is survived by a daughter and son-in-law, Catherine and Demetrios N. Dertouzos of Lawrenceville; a son, John P. Lekas of Sun Lakes, Ariz.; a sister, Assimina Brussaly of the Lawrenceville Nursing Home; four grandsons and a great-grandson.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Demetrios N. Calogredes of St. George Greek Orthodox Church, Trenton, officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to The Medical Center at Princeton Foundation, 253 Witherspoon Street, or to St. George Greek Orthodox Church, 1200 Klockner Road, Trenton.

Jane Shaw Bayles, 86, of Washington Road, Penns Neck, died May 17 in the Merwick Unit of Princeton Medical Center.

Born in Somerville, Mrs. Bayles lived in Penns Neck since the early 1940's. She retired from Princeton University in 1961 after 20 years as secretary to Dean J. Douglas Brown in the office of the Dean of the Faculty.

Mother of the late June Bayles Poinsett, she is survived by her husband, John E. Bayles; three grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

The service was private.

Jack A. Esche, 53, of Hopewell Borough, died May 17 at home.

Mr. Esche was born in Princeton and lived most of his life in Hopewell. He served with the U.S. Army during the Korean conflict and was a former member of the Hopewell Borough Zoning Board of Adjustment. He was a postman, employed at the Princeton Post Office.

Surviving are his wife, Martha E. Esche, and a son, Carl D., at home.

The service was scheduled to be held this Wednesday at 9:45 a.m. at the Cromwell Memorial Home, Hopewell, the Rev. Douglas Brouwer, pastor of the Hopewell Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Highland Cemetery. Donations may be made to the Hopewell Fire Department Ambulance Corps, Hopewell 08525.

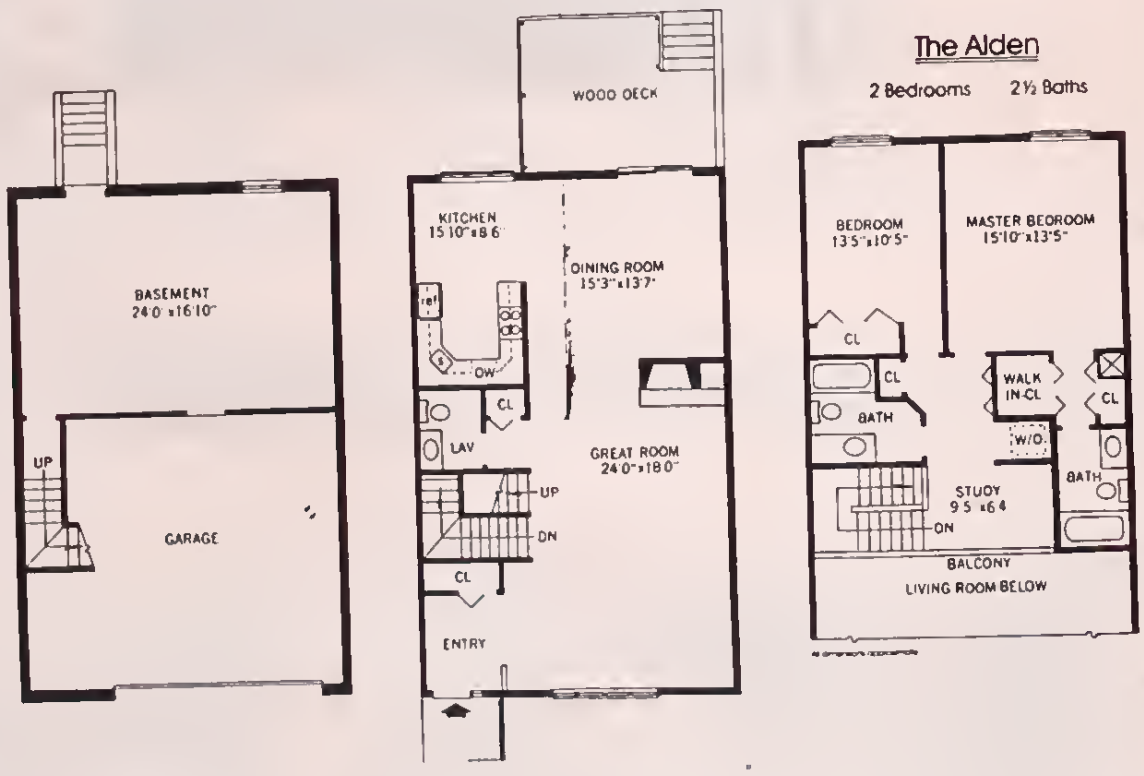
The Realtors



FOR THE YOUNG OR THE YOUNG AT HEART ... we are pleased to offer several townhouses in a very private enclave, where the architecture is distinctively contemporary, combined with natural beauty. Almost like a charming country village in "Princeton Greens" — so close to Princeton in West Windsor — they are both elegant and spacious ... with 2 or 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths ... quality construction and luxurious appointments, plus your own private recreational facilities. Call us for an appointment to see them. From $220,000 to $240,000

MT. LUCAS ROAD

Glass walls and cathedral ceilings create dramatic sun-filled rooms in this attractive Township contemporary. The exterior of natural redwood blends with the tall trees and boulders making a picturesque setting. There are three childrens' bedrooms and bath, secluded master bedroom with bath and loft study. Two bedrooms and bath on lower level provide that oft-needed space for guests, in-laws or an au pair. $515,000

PARKSIDE DRIVE

This exciting contemporary, high on a hillside in western Princeton, is completely secluded by a long driveway and a profusion of trees and shrubs. An iron gate opens to a walled court with circular brick terrace beyond. The generous use of glass throughout the house and spectacular garden room brings the outside beauty in and creates light bright rooms. $535,000

NELSON RIDGE ROAD

It's Spring all year round in this delightful house with its light bright rooms and happy decor. In nearby Hopewell Township on a quiet loop road, a sweeping lawn and a tall hedgerow give seclusion to this charming four bedroom Royal Barry Wills expanded Cape. $415,000

NASSAU COURT

On a gentle hill just north of Princeton in Montgomery Township, w[illegible] the seclusion of a cul-de-sac and a view of Princeton Ridge, this att[illegible]ive Colonial offers generous space for the activities of a growing [illegible]y. Gracious living areas include den or 5th bedroom, family room wi[illegible]ck fireplace and beamed ceiling on first floor. Four bedrooms and [illegible]ths on second. $34[illegible]000

Two Men Will Be Honored Simultaneously by the YMCA As 1st Francis Clark Award is Presented to Ralph Mason

When the YMCA presents its first Francis G. Clark Award to Ralph Mason at the annual dinner dance on Sunday, it will be honoring two men simultaneously.

Mr. Clark, for whom the award is named, served as Mercer County/Princeton YMCA executive director for 34 years and is widely regarded for his amazing ability to raise money — largely for activities and organizations involving youth, but more recently on behalf of senior citizens. Mr. Mason, who will receive the Francis G. Clark Award for exemplary community and YMCA service, has served in leadership positions at every level of the YMCA — local, county, state, national and worldwide.

Mr. Mason's involvement in the YMCA began more than six decades ago. A creek ran through the backyard of the Hamilton Township home in which he grew up, and his father, an engineer with Roebling & Sons in Trenton, decided nine-year old Ralph should learn to swim. The pool at the neighborhood Cook branch of the Trenton YMCA was about 12 yards long by nine yards wide, Mr. Mason remembers.

Other activities followed. Taking part in a Saturday morning program, he remembers walking with the group to Princeton to be treated to a university football game, including meeting the Tiger football captain and being entertained by the cheerleaders. "That was the forerunner of a Princeton YMCA program today," he says.

Promoting Camping. Camping was his particular interest, and Mr. Mason began as a camper, then a counseler-in-training and a leader at Camp Wilson, the Trenton YMCA camp on an island in the Delaware River near Frenchtown. Soon he was a member and then chairman of the camp committee. "Once the YMCA has hold of you, it keeps you involved," Mr. Mason remarks.

College — a year at Duke, followed by three years at Princeton, Class of 1936 — and law school — University of Pennsylvania, for a law degree in 1939 — intervened, as did World War II, in which he served four years in the Army and earned the Bronze Star Medal. Mr. Mason practiced in Trenton for a time before coming to Princeton to live and to work after his marriage to the former Jean Louise Harris in 1950.

He formed a law partnership with Gordon Griffin, which became Mason Griffin & Moore with the addition of Hervey Moore, who has just returned to the firm after 15 years as a Superior Court Judge in Trenton. Kester Pierson's name was later substituted in the firm title, when Mr. Moore became a judge.

Mr. Mason says it was Francis Clark who got him involved in YMCA activities again in the early 1950's by asking him to present a gift due from a widow for a pool for Camp Wilson. The widow died within a week and the gift did not materialize, but Mr. Mason found himself again heading the camp committee.

Devastating Hurricane. "The first year I had to report there would be a deficit. They had mixed up the capital expenses and the operating expenses," Mr. Mason recalls. "I told them there were three alternatives — go out of the camping business altogether, put some money into making the camp what it should be, and three, put some money in the operating budget to make sure there would be a balance by the end of the season."

Ralph S. Mason
Outstanding Citizen

The Trenton YMCA board, many of whom remembered fondly their own camping days at Camp Wilson, came up with the necessary funds, and Ralph Mason was elected to the board of directors. In late summer, 1955, Hurricane Diane ripped through Central New Jersey, causing a dam to break in the upper Delaware. Some 100 girl campers had to be airlifted from Camp Wilson, which was washed down the river.

Mr. Mason was instrumental in setting up the Central N.J. YMCA Camps as an organization separate from the Trenton, Mercer County, New Brunswick and Metuchen YMCA's, raising $300,000 and finding the site for the successor camp in Blairstown that ultimately came to be known as Camp Mason.

President of the Trenton YMCA for an unprecedented five-year term and a member of the board for 17 years, he also served on the board and executive committee of the Middle Atlantic Region YMCA and the Central Atlantic Area YMCA.

National Level. Nationally, Mr. Mason served on the youth program committee and then on the committee that had oversight over all programs, the national program committee. Telling his fellow committee members at the conclusion of one meeting that they had not accomplished anything, because, as he says, no one wanted to be critical of anyone else's program, not even in order to be constructive, he was made chairman of a committee to study the organization of the program part of the YMCA.

This led in turn to an organizational study which recommended a series of changes which in time linked the national organization more closely with local YMCAs and was more responsible to their concerns. President of the national council of the YMCA of the USA from 1975-77, he also served for 24 years on the executive council of the World Alliance of YMCAs.

He and Jean have travelled all over the world at their own expense to attend meetings of this council, and in 1985 he presented a new constitution for the world body. He thought that would be his swan song, but he is presently working on new bylaws for the executive committee of the World Alliance Council, working with a judge from the Philippines and a lawyer from Calgary, Canada.

Here in Princeton in the late 1950's, Mr. Mason was the legal architect of the agreement by which the YWCA and the YMCA would occupy a single new facility. The agreement also set up a separate entity for ownership of the bricks and mortar. Although he says this is not an accomplishment of which he is particularly proud today, he adds that at the time he consulted "the best minds" in the YM and YWCA around the country, who told him the joint facility "was the way to go."

Sharing the facility has caused friction between the two organizations in the past, and both are currently so successful each could use more time and space in the building for their own programs.

Community Efforts. Mr. Mason has served as former chairman of the Medical Center trustees; former president of the Chamber of Commerce, which named him Man of the Year in 1972; former president of the United Fund; former mayor of Princeton Township; and former chairman of the Township Planning Board.

He served as secretary of a joint consolidation study committee in 1951-52. He is one of the original founders of the Nassau Broadcasting Company and served as a director and as secretary/treasurer for many years. He is also a former director and vice chairman of the Princeton Savings & Loan Association and a trustee of the Hun School. A longtime Rotarian, who has served as trustee and treasurer of the Rotary Club of Princeton Foundation, he is currently a Paul Harris Fellow of Rotary International.

In his law practice, Mr. Mason has specialized in estate planning and family affairs, and he has been a confidante to many of the "captains" of busi-

News of The THEATRES

Comedy Is Scheduled At Off-Broadstreet Theater

Cold Storage, a comedy about life, death and the meaning of the stars will open Friday, May 29, at the Off-Broadstreet Theatre in Hopewell.

The play is about two men who meet on the roof garden of a hospital and then conduct a serious-comedic battle about the meaning of life. In a New York season filled with shows dealing with aging and death, Cold Storage won the 1977 Drama Critics Award for Best Play.

Playing the role of Joseph Parmigian, a fiesty, outrageous terminally ill fruit-and-vegetable vendor, will be Nathaniel Hartshorne of Blawenburg. An actor and writer/editor, Mr. Hartshorne made his professional stage debut as the son in Philip Barry's Second Threshold at the Berkshire Playhouse in Stockbridge, Mass. He has performed with the Princeton Community Players, Theatre Intime and P.J.&B.

Nathaniel Hartshorne

In 1951, Mr. Hartshorne left the theatre to become the first editor at Educational Testing Service. He has since moved to the Princeton Theological Seminary, where he is director of publications.

Meeting Parmigian on this rooftop is Richard Landau, an aloof art dealer, played by Ronald Platt of North Brunswick. Mr. Platt is an art teacher in the Plainfield school district and has performed throughout the east coast. He has appeared in several Off-Broadstreet Theatre productions including On Golden Pond, Lady Audley's Secret and The Odd Couple among others.

———

Portraying Landau's private nurse will be Mary White of Princeton, who will be making her debut with the Off-Broadstreet Theatre mainstage productions. Ms. White is involved with the Children's Classic Series at the theatre.

The show is being directed by Robert Thick, co-producer of the Off-Broadstreet Theatre.

Performances are Fridays through Sundays, May 29 through June 27. Friday and Saturday evenings, doors open at 7 p.m. for dessert with curtain at 8. Sunday afternoon doors open at 1:30 for dessert with curtain at 2:30.

Admission Friday and Sunday is $13.75, Saturday $15. Ticket price includes dessert and show. For reservations or further information contact the Off-Broadstreet Theatre at 5 South Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, phone 466-2766.

Two Musical Shows Set For McCarter Summer

An important addition to McCarter Theatre during its recent $4-million renovation was air-conditioning. To take advantage of this new feature, McCarter Theatre will present "Summertime '87: Theater on the Lighter and Cooler Side."

The Summertime '87 season will consist of two musicals staged by two guest professional theater companies. The musical Peg O' My Heart will be presented by the American Stage Festival of New Hampshire, and Some Enchanted Evening, a musical revue of the songs of Rodgers and Hammerstein, will be presented by the American Stage Company, in residence at Fairleigh Dickinson University.

Peg O' My Heart, based on the play by J. Hartley Manners, is the story of an Irish-American lass forced to return to her British relatives for lessons in taking tea. The musical features a score written by David Heneker, and includes the song "Peg O' My Heart" originally inspired by the Manners play. Ann Morrison, star of the London production, and George Ede, familiar to McCarter audiences as the Stage Manager from Our Town, are featured.

Some Enchanted Evening is a musical revue of the songs of Rodgers and Hammerstein that includes favorites from South Pacific, Oklahoma, The Sound of Music, The King and I and others. Ernestine Jackson, a Tony Award nominee, and four others make up the cast.

Performances of Peg O' My Heart are Thursday through Sunday, July 9-12 and 16-19. Performances of Some Enchanted Evening are Thursday through Sunday, July 30-August 2.

Subscription prices start at $25.20; single ticket prices start at $14. Box office phone is 683-8000, Monday through Saturday, noon to six p.m. Charges are welcome. Group sales are available by calling 683-9100.

Auditions Are Scheduled At Showcase Theatre

Auditions for two summer productions of Shakespeare '70, Inc., have been scheduled at Artists Showcase Theatre in Trenton.

On Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m., the Neil Simon comedy The Odd Couple (female version) will be auditioned by director Ted Hoagland. The roles of Olive and Florence have been cast; however, all other female roles (mid-20s and older) and the parts of the two Hispanic brothers are open. The play will open at Artists Showcase on July 11 and run for three weekends.

On Tuesday June 2 and by appointment, director Gerald E. Guarnieri will cast the roles in Murder Among Friends. Three men, mid-20s and older, are needed. A young "beach boy" type who can switch between an Hispanic accent and non-accented speech is especially sought. Two women's roles, both in the 30- to 40-year range, are needed. The play will open August 14 for a three-weekend run.

A stage manager and other technical assistance is also needed.

For information, call Mr. Guarnieri evenings at 392-t704. Artists Showcase is at 1150 Indiana Avenue, off Route 1, near the Brunswick Avenue Circle in Trenton.

Summer Workshops Set By Princeton Ballet

The School of the Princeton Ballet, under the direction of Mary Pat Robertson, is nffering a comprehensive selection of courses this summer for dancers of all levels of expertise. Princeton Ballet's professional faculty will be the instructors.

Workshop '87 is a five-week, six-day-per-week program for the advanced- and intermediate-level dance student, age 13 through young adult. The workshop involves training in several dance disciplines, as well as instruction in health, fitness and stage presentation.

The culmination of the students' efforts will be a showcase performance on July 31 at the New Jersey State Museum.

The participants also will be treated to several field trips such as going to see the Bolshoi Ballet in New York.

Since space is limited and Princeton Ballet gets applications from all over the world, it is advised that anyone interested in Workshop '87 contact the Princeton Ballet as soon as possible. The workshop, held at the Princeton Studio, runs from June 29 through July 31, from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 10:30 a.m. through 12 noon on Saturday.

For the less experienced dancer 10 years old and up, Princeton Ballet offers the Workshop Sampler, a one-, two- or three-week course. It is a less intense version of Workshop '87 and runs from June 29 to July 17, 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, in the Cranbury Studio of the Princeton Ballet Sneiety.

There are also eight week evening courses, offering ballet, jazz, modern and Spanish dance. The classes, which take place in Princeton Ballet's New Brunswick, Cranbury and Princeton studios, begin on June 1 through July 23, from 5:15 p.m. to 9:15 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Call Mary Pat Robertson, 921-7758, for an application and more information.

Showcase Performances In Free Dance Concerts

Geulah Abrahams Danceworks will present Danceworks Showcase '87 on Saturday at 8 at the Dance Studio, 185 Nassau Street. The performance will be repeated on Sunday at 8 at the Nikolais-Louis Choreospace, 33 East 18th Street, New York City.

These showcase performances are free and open to the puhlic and will feature new choreography as well as recent reconstructions of dances from the repertory. Music for the program includes works by J.S. Bach, Philip Glass, Paul Lansky, Arnold Schoenberg and Andrew Thomas. Photography by Ernestine Ruben will be shown in a special video presentation.

Dancers featured in this showcase are Janell Byrne, Stanley Joseph, Mira Pospisil, Joy Vrooman Sayen, Paulette Sears, Shelley Shepherd and Myra Woodruff. Allyson Green and Larry Hahn will appear on the special video presentation.

Seating is unreserved, but reservations are suggested for the New York performance because of limited seating. They may be made by calling (212) 924-0077.

Teenagers Are Sought For Shakespeare Summer

Additional audition dates have been set for the 1987 session of Shakespeare Summer, McCarter's four-week theatre program for teenagers, which culminates in a fully staged production of a Shakespeare play.

This summer's production will be the comedy Two Gentlemen of Verona, directed by Robert Lanchester, associate artistic director of McCarter. The extra audition dates for the program for teenagers aged 14 to 18 are scheduled for June 4 and 5. Those interested should call Sandy Moskovitz at 683-9100, extension 6021, between 10 and 5.

Joining Mr. Lanchester in providing instruction will be Steve Kazakoff, movement and stage combat coach; Laurie Huntsman, acting coach; and Nagle Jackson, artistic director of McCarter, who will be leading special acting classes.

Shakespeare Summer will run from June 29 to July 26. Classes and rehearsals will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Monday through Friday, culminating with performances of Two Gentlemen of Verona outdoors on the Princeton campus on July 25 and 26.

PHS Orchestra to Honor Its Former Conductor

The Princeton High School Orchestra's spring concert on Thursday will honor Portia Sonnenfeld for her dedication to the orchestra during the 15 years she was its conductor. Mrs. Sonnenfeld retired earlier in the school year because of illness, and Gail P. Edwards has succeeded her as conductor.

The concert will begin at 8 in the auditorium. The program will include the Hoe-Down by Aaron Copland and Haydn's Symphony No. 1. The concert will also include solo performances by Esther Hamori, violin, and David W. Edwards, piano, in concerti by Bruch and Beethoven, respectively. Emily Allen and Joni Owen will be featured in Debussy's En Bateau from his Petite Suite. Alumni orchestra players will join in for the grand finale, Dvorak's Slavonic Donce.

In honor of Mrs. Sonnenfeld, a committee of orchestra parents will announce the recently established Portia Sonnenfeld Music Education Award. The award will be given annually to an outstanding Princeton High School Orchestra member "to nurture the love and joy of music."

The concert is open to the public, and admission is free.

Three Kurt Weill Works In Concert Versions

The Princeton Festival will present premiers of original concert versions of three Kurt Weill works in Richarson Auditorium June 10-13.

The Three Penny Opera and Happy End will be performed in German as a double bill Wednesday, June 10, at 8, and again on Friday, June 12, also at 8. Lost in the Stars, based on Alan Paton's book Cry, The Beloved Country, will be performed in English on Thursday and Sunday, June 11 and 13.

Performers will include Gordon Hawkins, a Metropolitan Opera regional winner, and Theodore Schorske, of Princeton, as well as Stephanie Myszak, Barrington Coleman, Barbara Leifer, Yvette Vanderpool, Cheryl Freeman, and 12-year old Clinton Ingram. The performances will be under the direction of Victor Symonette, the Festival's artistic director.

———

Richardson Concerts Set By the Waterloo Festival

The 12th season of the Waterloo Festival and School of Music will be held from June 19 through July 26.

It features six weekends of performances by the Waterloo Festival Orchestra and chamber music concerts by the faculty artists of the School of Music. This year's Festival will continue to emphasize music by major American composers such as Samuel Barber, Aaron Copland, Howard Hanson and Walter Piston.

This year the Waterloo School of Music will move to Princeton University in an affiliation that is expected to continue in subsequent summer seasons. The Friday evening chamber music concerts will be presented in Richardson Auditorium, as will Monday evening repeats of two of the regular Saturday evening orchestra concerts.

Additionally, the School of Music will open a series of master classes to the public at no charge. These will include The Art of Violin Playing, given by Prof. Raphael Bronstein and Ariana Bronne, Mondays from 11 to 1, June 15 to July 20; Technique and Rehearsal of String Quartets, by Stuart Canin, Mondays, June 15, 22 and 29, from 4 to 6; and the Art of 'Cello Playing, presented by Janos Starker, Friday, June 26, at 11

The Waterloo Festival and School of Music was founded in 1976 by conductor Gerard Schwarz, who served as music director for 10 years and is now the Festival's principal conductor. This summer Mr. Schwarz will conduct four of the 8:30 p.m. Saturday evening concerts by the Waterloo Festival Orchestra, including the two in Princeton.

The first is on Monday, June 22, at 8:30, with Dylana Jenson, violin soloist, and the second is Monday, July 20, also at 8:30, when pianist Claudio Arrau will be the soloist.

The Friday evening chamber music series in Richardson Auditorium will take place Fridays from June 19 to July 24 at 8:30. Each week the concert will begin with a pair of fugues from J.S. Bach's The Art of the Fugue in various transcriptions for string quartet, woodwind quintet, brass quintet, percussion, two pianos, and chamber orchestra.

The rest of the program will range from traditional chamber works to 20th-century compositions and works by composers not usually associated with chamber music, including Rossini, Gershwin and Rimsky-Korsakov.

New Conductor Named For Chamber Symphony

Mark Laycock has been named music director and conductor of The Chamber Symphony of Princeton by its board of trustees, succeeding Portia Sonnenfeld, founder of the orchestra. Mr. Laycock has been associate conductor during the 1986-87 season.

Mr. Laycock made his British debut with the Philharmonia Orchestra at the Royal Festival Hall in February, 1986. He is winner of the Leopold Stokowski Memorial Competition in association with the Philadelphia Orchestra, and had the honor of being the only conductor to be invited for two consecutive years to participate in the international conducting awards sponsored by the Rupert Foundation.

Mr. Laycock looks forward to continuing the traditions and excellence of the Chamber Symphony, founded in 1980 by Ms. Sonnenfeld as The Little Orchestra of Princeton. The orchestra evolved from a semi-professional, community-based group into a professional ensemble. The Chamber Symphony has twice — in 1985 and 1987 — been awarded national prizes by ASCAP for adventuresome programming. Each season has featured internationally-known soloists and world premieres of new music.

During the 1987-88 season, the Chamber Symphony, augmented by the Hoboken Chamber Orchestra, the Pro Arte Chorale, and conducted by Gary Schneider, will perform Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. The three remaining concerts of the season will feature all five Beethoven piano concerti, performed by Robert Taub. They will be conducted by Mr. Laycock, who led the Chamber Symphony in two concerts in the 1986-87 season.

Concert at Choir College By Community Orchestra

The Westminster Conservatory Community Orchestra will present its second concert of the year Friday, June 5, at 8:30 in the Playhouse on the Westminster Choir College campus. Under the direction of Barbara Barstow, the orchestra was formed this year to give amateur instrumentalists the opportunity to play in an orchestra and rehearse on a regular basis.

The program includes the Oboe Concerto in G Major by Besozzi and will feature the orchestra's oboist, Eda De Pasquale. Also on the program is Marche Mililaire Francaise by Saint-Saens; several movements of Beethoven's Symphony No. 1 in C Major; A Moorside Suite, by Holst and Overture to Orpheus in Hades by Offenbach.

Of special interest is the Sinfonietta by Pennington composer, Olga Gorelli. Ms.

Mark Laycock

Gorelli, born in Italy of Russian parents, came to the United States shortly before Italy entered World War II. She studied at Imaculata College, Curtis Institute of Music, Yale University School of Music and Smith College. Sinfonietta was her masters thesis at Smith College (1950) and it reflects her Italian and Russian heritage.

Admission to the concert is free. For further information call the Conservatory office at 921-7104 or 921-7100 ext. 260.

Noontime Concerts Start With OTB Jazz Quartet

The first performanec in the weekly noontime concert series at the Carnegie Center will feature the OTB (Out of the Blue) Jazz Quartet with lead trumpeter Michael Mossman on Wednesday, June 3.

The Wednesday series will take place between 12:15 and 1:30 in the outdoor amphitheater at 210 Carnegie Center. The Center is located on Route 1 between Alexander Road and Carnegie Boulevard.

This group of young jazzmen, organized by Blue Note Records, has performed concerts and club appearances on three continents. Mr. Mossman studied trumpet under William Fielder at Rutgers, and Vincent Cichowicz of the Chicago Symphony.

Future Wednesday concerts at 210 Carnegie Center are June 10, Bootleg Country, folk music with Dave Gant; June 17, Raritan Brass Ensemble, classical and familiar melodies; and June 24, Ed Henderson, folk singer. Rain dates are set for the following Friday.

In addition, three Tuesday noontime concerts are planned in the circular Carnegie 101 garden behind the Princeton Hyatt Hotel. They include Gary Struncius and Debby Lawton, songs and folk instruments, June 16; Julie Lieberman, jazz violinist, July 2; and Anthony Branker jazz quartet, September 15.

Additional performance information may be obtained by calling the Carnegie Center in Princeton at 452-1444.

2 Recitals Are Planned By Young Piano Students

Piano students from the studio of Naomi Jury Chandler will be presented in two recitals at the Present Day Club on Saturday afternoon. Both programs are open to the public.

Those appearing at the 2 p.m. program include Julie Lee, Cordelia Hill, Michelle Valentine, Kathy Hwang, Stephen Wright, Alice Hwang, Holly Donlon, Timothy Johnston, Patti Hwang, David Wright, Ellen Hwang, Kimberly Crusey, Leslie Powell, Stephan Connor, Nicole Young, Hans-Marcus Bitter, Tania Lee, Lisa Callegari, Kristina Wellman, James Weatherill, Phoebe Reed, and Serena Volpp.

At 4 p.m., Phoebe Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Reed of Hopewell, and Serena Volpp, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gert Volpp of Princeton, will play a joint recital. Both girls were recent prize winners in the Anna B. Stokes Memorial Contest open to high school students of Mercer County.

Miss Volpp won first prize and played in a recital at the New Jersey State Museum in Trenton.

At Kalens Fine Arts
you will find GIFTS of the Old and Rare
the Odd and Unusual

Famous since 1886 for the most beautiful photograph frames and no matter what the size we magically make it fit.

Where else will you find a shop so full of specialties that one hates to leave without purchasing something.

And you know what we have — greeting cards obtainable nowhere else.

Oil paintings by great local artists, antique porcelain umbrella stands and oriental wall hangings. See our marvelous tapestries. See all of it, because we can't mention it all.

ART

Summer Program Is Set At Princeton Art Ass'n.

Students in two of the 32 classes being offered this summer at the Princeton Art Association can take to the outdoors to learn how to draw and paint the landscape.

Linda Lombardi will teach a week-long class on painting the landscape in watercolor, which will meet every afternoon from 1 to 4 starting June 22. Students may also study how to draw the landscape in pencil, charcoal, colored pencil, and pastels. Instructor is Jean Lindabury, and the class will be held during the week of July 6.

The Princeton Art Association offers several such week-long classes in addition to its regular courses. The summer program includes classes in enamelling, sculpture, drawing, painting, and printmaking.

Also, Eva Kaplan will teach painting, drawing, sculpture, and multi-media in the PAA Art Camp. Geared for children ages 7-11, the camp begins its sessions June 22.

Classes are offered day and evening at the PAA Studios at 45 Stockton Street. Cost ranges from $35 to $120. For registration and other information, call 921-9173.

Whitney Show Highlighted At PAA Trip to New York

Princeton Art Association is repeating a favorite event, a Day in New York, on Saturday, June 20. The bus will leave from the Princeton Shopping Center at 9 a.m. and return to Princeton at approximately 5:45.

The Whitney Biennial will be the highlight of the trip. However, the bus will make a total of three stops along Fifth Avenue — both on arrival and return — at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the Museum of Modern Art, as well as the Whitney. A list of many of the area museums and galleries will be distributed on the bus.

Cost is $16 for members and $23 for non-members. For reservation information, call 921-9173.

Exhibits

The Princeton Art Association will sponsor two exhibitions from June 1 to 30.

Recent work by Hope Carter will be at the Center for Health Affairs, 760 Alexander Road, and "Things I Fancied," by Barbara Valen, will be at the First National Bank of Central Jersey, Route 518.

An exhibit of work by Carol Long will open June 5 at The Arts Council of Princeton. It will continue for one month.

Clubs and Organizations

The YMCA has elected four members to its board of directors.

They are Stanley J. Birch, president and chief executive officer of the Carrier Foundation; Lawrence H. Parsons, an investment executive with Tucker Anthony and R.L. Day in Princeton; Samuel S. Mather II, executive vice president and senior loan officer of Montgomery National Bank; and Jane R. Chiurco M.D., assistant medical director, anti-infectives at E.R. Squibb & Sons. Mr. Mather and Dr. Chiurco were elected to three-year terms, Mr. Parsons and Mr. Birch to one-year terms.

Mr. Mather has been active with the YM since 1971 and has served as vice president and treasurer of the board of directors. He is currently chairman of the joint YM/YW board of trustees, which oversees the joint facility. He has also served as a director, treasurer and chairman of the Princeton Chapter, American Red Cross.

Dr. Chiurco is a board member for Mercer County Planned Parenthood and the Family Resource Infant Center in Princeton. She is president and founder of Trenton LIFE (Living Independently for the Elderly), a nonprofit organization which is renovating a large home to serve as an independent living community for active elderly people.

The Mercer County Stroke Club will hold its annual picnic at the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road, at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, June 3.

All members and their friends are invited to attend.

The Junior Woman's Club will meet Thursday, June 4, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Joanne Crain, 27 Westminster Court, Princeton Junction. For directions to the meeting, call 275-1741.

The Greater Princeton Singles Community, together with Forum for Singles, will hold a softball game on Sunday, at Grover Park. This is behind the Princeton Shopping Center.

For further information, call 443-1283.

The Women's College Club has elected its new slate of officers and committee chairmen for the coming year. Officers include preident, Elly de Boer; vice president, Alaine Jass; recording secretary, Mary Palenchar; corresponding secretary, Betty Irish; treasurer, Frances Edeburn; and assistant treasurer, Mary Schwab.

Committee chairmen are Susannah Arnould, Helen Sangster, Mary Nation, Delanne Willis, Lily Brown, Tady Hunter, Lucinda Mezey, Alice Parker, Betty Robertson, Mary Lincoln, Jane Carpenter, Jean Kjorlien, Laura Khachadurian, Sue Metcalf, Eleanor Pennington, Betty Chenicek, Mickey Eggers, Nancy Martinson, and Marcia Powell.

Dorothy Donahue served as chairman of the nominating committee. Other members were Gerry Bowers, Betty Irish and Ginny Merrill.

The Sierra Club will hold its annual spring picnic on Saturday, June 6, from noon to dusk, at Battlefield Park. Activities will include hikes, orienteering, and games.

Those attending are asked to bring games, food and chairs. The club will provide drinks and other refreshments. Rain date is Saturday, June 13. For further information call Denny O'Neal at (201) 359-2039.

Seven graduating seniors in Princeton secondary schools will share awards totalling $10,000 from The Women's College Club.

These scholarships are awarded to senior girls who have attended a Princeton secondary school for at least two years and plan to attend an accredited four-year college or university. Other factors considered are financial need, scholastic standing, character, and extra-curricular activities.

Recipients of the awards, and the colleges they will attend, are, Lisa Silberman, Barnard; Amy Kaufman, Tulane; Margarita Daly, Westmont (Santa Barbara); My Dinh Chung, University of San Francisco; Stephanie Livingston, Spelman (Atlanta); Kelly Tahanay, Rutgers; and Maureen McNulty, Franklin and Marshall.

Scholarship committee members are Betty Chenicek, Mickey Eggers, Fannie Floyd, Lee Gunther-Mohr, and Molly Updike.

The Greater Princeton Singies Community will meet Sunday, June 7, at 5 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Route 1, for a social hour and program. Bruce French, past president of the Princeton Historical Society, will speak on highlights of Princeton's history. Admission is $4 for members; $6 for nonmembers.

Special interest groups meet at other times of the month, and include Trivial Pursuit, volleyball, bridge, jazz appreciation, and play reading. For further information call 443-1283.

The annual poppy dinner-dance of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 76 will be held Saturday. It had been scheduled for a date earlier this month. Call Patti Headley, at 443-4968, for reservations.

The Speech-Language-Hearing Association will meet on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the St. Lawrence Rehabilitation Center. Dr. Paul Rossos, an otolaryngologist, will speak on "Current Management of Otitis Media and Related Disorders."

Guests and new members are invited. For further information, call Amy Schirber at 924-9473.

A Trash 'n Treasure and bake sale to benefit the Princeton Senior Resource Center will be held June 6 from 10 to 4.

Donations for the sale, such as baked goods, clothing, or other items, may be dropped off the first week in June at the Resource Center, North Harrison Street, between 9-4.

For further information, call 924-7108.

Quality, Supportive Care Featured at Familyborn

A pink flag flew outside the building at 21 Wiggins Street. This was Familyborn, The Mildred Morgan Center for Birth and Women's Health's way of announcing that a baby girl had been born.

"We emphasize that having a baby is natural and healthy, that it is a state of wellness," explains Marcy Kahn, co-director of Familyborn. "Nurse-midwives are known for providing very warm, supportive care for women," she adds. "The approach is different. There is a tremendous emphasis on education and nutrition. They spend time with clients, giving them both emotional and physical support and care. A lot of hospitals are now calling themselves a birth center, but actually, a birth center is not a place, but a philosophy."

"A WONDERFUL WAY TO BEGIN": "We see the birth center as a kind of bridge between the home and hospital," comment Marcy Kahn and Anne Battle, co-directors of Familyborn, The Mildred Morgan Center for Birth and Women's Health at 21 Wiggins Street. They explain that "Many women like the environment of the home atmosphere but with the safety features of the hospital. We provide an alternative for normal, healthy women."

Familyborn, Princeton's birth center, began six years ago, but at that time it was located in North Brunswick. Co-director Anne Battle notes that, "We couldn't get obstetrical back-up in Princeton then, but when doctors saw our excellent safety record, attitudes began to change. Now we have both obstetrical back-up and pediatric back-up, and we opened in Princeton in December 1984.

"What we are trying to do is work together with physicians," she continues. "We're all working for the same goal. And because of our program, doctors can spend more time with people who need their special expertise."

A non-profit organization, licensed by the state, the center offers pre-natal and gynecological care by four nurse-midwives. As Mrs. Battle explains, "We are non-profit because we try to offer this care at reasonable costs. We must rely on the donations of concerned and generous supporters.

"This is a medical facility," she continues, "and we assure people that we are prepared to manage emergencies should they arise. We have some of the same pieces of emergency equipment that are found in the hospital, and nurse-midwives are registered nurses who have several years of obstetrical nursing experience. They have completed a 1½- to 2-year midwifery program and are licensed to practice by the state. The nurse-midwife will be with the woman throughout her labor. There is always a team of three in attendance — the nurse-midwife, a registered nurse and a birth assistant."

Involvement & Choice. It is an emphasis on flexibility and allowing people to have more control and involvement in the birth process that has accounted for the increasing popularity of birth centers. "It really grew out of a consumer movement, adds Mrs. Battle. "People wanted to be more involved in what was happening. They wanted more choices."

Choices are definitely available at Familyborn. A woman may choose to have her family or friends in attendance during the delivery, including her other children. As Mrs. Kahn explains, however, "If parents choose to have their other children watch the birth, then the children must go to a sibling preparation class where they will learn about the sights and sounds they will encounter. They will understand that 'my mom is working really hard.' It's very important for parents to feel comfortable with this idea if they have their children attend."

"Some parents have the children come in just after the baby is born," she continues. "Some have their parents or friends. Most have their husbands. One thing that is really special here is when you have the woman's mother or mother-in-law or father. They may not necessarily be planning to witness the birth, but when they do, a beautiful thing happens. It's not just the mother and the baby, but the whole family bonds together after this event that is so intense and personal.

"Many times, mothers of the new mother didn't have this same opportunity, and seeing their children having children is very moving. One woman wrote in after and said the experience with her family being there had changed her life."

Depending on age and health (16 to 34 if it's the first baby, 16 to 39 if it's a subsequent baby), a woman may have pre-natal care and delivery at Familyborn. If she is ineligible to have the baby at the center, she can still have pre-natal care there, but then have the baby at St. Francis Hospital in Trenton, with her nurse-midwife in attendance.

As Mrs. Battle explains, "St. Francis is especially progressive regarding the attitudes of its obstetrical staff concerning a birth center and nurse-midwives."

The Birthing Room. If a woman does have the baby at Familyborn, she will give birth in one of two cheerful, attractively decorated birthing rooms. Each has its own adjoining bathroom, and as one client remarked, "It looks just like the guest room." There is also a family room, adjacent to the birthing room, a kitchen nearby, and a Jacuzzi room will soon be added.

"The mother stays a minimum of four hours after the birth," reports Mrs. Kahn, "and she could stay a maximum of 12 hours. Then, in the next two days, she calls in, reporting on temperature and other vital information. On the third day, she comes in with the

Engagements and Weddings

Engagements

Soffen-Donnermeyer. Sharon E. Soffen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Soffen, 95 Longview Drive, to Dennis D. Donnermeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Donnermeyer of Grand Isle, Neb.

Ms. Soffen, a graduate of St. Lawrence University, is currently an account executive for WEZF Radio in Burlington, Vt., but will shortly move to its sister station, WHEB, in Portsmouth, N.H.

Mr. Donnermeyer, a graduate in biomedical engineering from the Franklin Institute of Technology in Boston, Mass., recently left the Department of Orthopadics at the University of Vermont. He is an orthopadic sales engineer for the Richardo Medical Co., Portsmouth.

A 1988 wedding is planned.

Wood-Slowik. Elizabeth E. Wood, daughter of Mrs. Linda L. Wood of Memphis, Tenn., to John R. Slowik III of Philadelphia, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. Slowik Jr. of Princeton.

Ms. Wood, a graduate of Lausanne School in Memphis, will graduate this month from Hollins College, Hollins, Va. She spent her junior year at the University of London, (England.) In 1985, Miss Wood was a special princess to the Queen of the Cotton Carnival in Memphis.

Mr. Slowik, a 1985 graduate of Washington and Lee University, is national sales manager for Grolen, Inc., of Philadelphia.

The couple plan a June 20 wedding at Calvary Episcopal Church in Memphis.

Weddings

Farrell-Fabri. Shari L. Fabri, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fabri of Lawrenceville, to Robert G. Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Farrell of Saudi Arabia; May 9 at the First United Methodist Church of Pennington, the Rev. Robert Williams officiating, assisted by the Rev. Michael Spillane of Washington, D.C.

The bride is a graduate of Hopewell Valley Central High School and Douglass College. She received a master's degree from Carnegie-Mellon University, and is a programmer analyst at Scientific Computing Associates, New Haven, Conn.

Mr. Farrell is a graduate of Carnegie-Mellon University and is a Ph.D. candidate at Yale University.

After a wedding trip to the Cayman Islands, the couple are living in New Haven.

Sherman-Irenas. Amy R. Irenas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Irenas, 196 Elm Road, to Spencer D. Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sherman of Bayside, New York; May 17 at The Jewish Center, Rabbi Melvin Glazer officiating.

The bride is a graduate of Princeton High School and Bryn Mawr College. She received her law degree from New York University School of Law and spent her third year at the University of Pennsylvania Law School as a visiting student. She will start as an associate with the Philadelphia law firm of Wolf, Block, Schorr and Solis-Cohen in September.

Mr. Sherman is a magna cum laude graduate of Brandeis University, where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa. He received his M.B.A. from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. He is a financial planner at New York Life in Bala Cynwyd, Pa.

Following a wedding trip to Paris, the couple will live in Philadelphia.

baby, and then comes in again for a six-week check-up.

"Also, the baby is required by law to be seen by a pediatrician after birth, and a new-born exam is done here by the nurse-midwife.

"Everytime you see a birth," she adds, "it reinforces all the reasons we are doing this. We see what we can give to women, to families, how we can start them out stronger. Each birth is like it's the first time."

Occasionally, a mother will give birth in the hospital, usually in cases where the labor is not progressing. As Mrs. Battle remarks, "The midwives here are extremely capable of identifying a problem. They will either co-manage it with a physician or turn the client over to a physician, if necessary. But even if the mother delivers in the hospital, the nurse-midwife will be with her throughout. There is a very special trust and rapport that exists between the mother and the nurse-midwife."

IF YOU LIKE TOWN TOPICS the best way to show your appreciation is to mention it to our advertisers

She adds that the birth center has had nearly 700 births now, and "with the 300 born in the hospital, we're very close to a total of 1000."

Educational Role. Both Mrs. Battle and Mrs. Kahn stress the educational aspect of Familyborn. "It's important to say that with our whole prenatal care the birth and postpartum care, people really become educated. They understand what has happened to their bodies and to the baby, and they learn about care of the baby. It's a wonderful way to begin."

An extensive educational program is offered, including early pregnancy classes, child birth preparation and infant CPR. In addition, this fall the educational services will expand to include the needs of adolescents and older women, with programs on responsible sexuality, menopause, hysterectomies and osteoporosis.

Familyborn also offers tours for school children which include a look at the center and visits with pregnant women. Says Mrs. Battle, "The kids are fascinated. It's like it's the most natural thing in the world."

Routine gynecological care is another service which is becoming more and more popular. "The nurse-midwife takes more time with the women, and women like relating to other women," report the directors.

Costs at Familyborn are kept as reasonable as possible. "Our total program for pre-natal care, which includes all care, routine lab work, birth, postpartum care stay and two postpartum visits is $2,500, and that encompasses use of the facility," says Mrs. Battle. Gynecological care is $50 for the first visit which includes a history, physical and Pap test. Repeat visits are $30 including Pap test. Pregnancy tests are $20.

Adds Mrs. Kahn, "We have complete malpractice coverage for the facility, nurse-midwives and everyone who works here. We are fully insured. We're recognized by the insurance companies, so costs are reimbursable. We also have two HMOs."

As vital as all that is in today's world, the true essence of Familyborn may lie in its recognition that people like to have a choice, be involved, and that a non-intimidating atmosphere of kindness and warmth at this very special moment in one's life is perhaps the most welcome service of all.

Familyborn is open Monday, Wednesday and Friday 9 to 5, Tuesday and Thursday 10 to 8.

YMCA Award

ness and industry who have made Princeton their home. He characterizes his practice as "the nice kind of law," and says he has been lucky. His son Ralph S. III, known as Rip, is also a partner in the firm, which has grown to 18 partners, two full-time law clerks and 43 or 44 associates.

The Masons have another son, Thomas, and a daughter, Karen. Recently, they took a cruise together in the Caribbean, the second such cruise for this family which counts Sunday as church and family day. In honoring Ralph Mason, the YMCA of Princeton is honoring the Christian, community and service values that it is known for.

Also Honored. Frank Clark, who will be in the spotlight with Ralph Mason Sunday night as the one for whom this first annual award has been named, deserves further mention here, for he too exemplifies the YMCA. Mr. Clark graduated from Springfield College, which was founded to develop YMCA leaders, in 1935 and later received a master's degree in international relations at Clark University, Worcester, Mass.

He was working for the World Alliance of YMCAs in Geneva when World War II broke out, and he returned to the U.S. Due to leave by Japanese boat from San Francisco to go to the YMCA in Thailand a week after Pearl Harbor, he took a YMCA job in Mercer County instead and became executive director of the County and Princeton in 1943. He retired from the YMCA here in 1977 and became a development associate for the Presbyterian Homes of New Jersey, for which he has raised more than $3 million.

Mr. Clark is credited with having persuaded wealthy Princeton residents such as the late Dean Mathey of the need for a new facility, with a pool, gym, health club, classrooms and office space for the YM and the YWCA. At the time the YM was an all-black organization operating out of what is now the Arts Council building; the YW was located in a storefront on the corner of Nassau and Moore Streets.

But Mr. Clark's fund raising extended to other areas as well. In 1944 he began raising money to put high school students, mostly minority youth, through college. He says he has sent 51 students through college. During the war, he and his wife, ran programs for 2,000 Mexicans working on the Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads when all able-bodied men were tapped for war service.

Youth Speaks Up. During the 1960's he was loaned to the YMCAs of Puerto Rico over a period of 10 years to teach them how to raise money. In 1963 he began a Youth Speaks Up radio program for grades 11 and 12 from 23 high schools. This show is the longest running show still on the air and was awarded a national American Legion Award for Juvenile Decency in 1968.

Mr. Clark also created the YMCA Ranger camping trip program in the 1960's and started the YMCA Executive Club, which now has 200 members who contribute $150 each year. In 1978 he organized Youth Communications Inc, which included a radio show and an urban journalism workshop for minorities in New Jersey. His most recent endeavor has been to organize the senior citizens craft show held at Stuart School in the fall under the sponsorship of the Presbyterian Homes organization.

On his resume, Mr. Clark lists his hobbies as "raising money, baking bread as a calling card, Indian archaeology and horseback riding until my horse died at age 31. Previous to that my wife and I had ridden horseback across Iceland and in Mexico."

Ralph Mason and Frank Clark — two men with different talents, but enormous organizational skills and a great zest for community service. Somewhat in the way that "the gift without the giver is bare," the man honored reflects the qualities of the person for whom the award is named.

PDS Girls Capture 7th Straight Prep Title in Lacrosse

A season and perhaps an era ended for the Princeton Day School girls' lacrosse team last Wednesday when the Panthers won their seventh consecutive NJISAA "A" championship.

In a game that was much more of a formality than a contest, the Panthers overwhelmed Dwight-Englewood, 19-2, at Peddie. As the saying goes, they could have mailed in the result for this one.

Dwight, which also lost to PDS in the finals last year, might well have preferred that option. The north Jersey school's long ride on the turnpike was stretched an extra hour by an accident between Exits 8 and 9. The rain and cold were no treat either.

Mercifully, because of the late start, the running time was shortened to 20 minutes per half. PDS, however, needed only the first 10 to assert its superiority.

SPORTS

SCOTTIE SCORES: Princeton Day's Scottie King scored one of her four goals on this shot against Dwight-Englewood last Wednesday in the Prep A championship contest. Sadly for PDS, she and Suzie Dwyer, who scored six times, will transfer to Lawrenceville this fall. (W. L. Bill Allen Jr. photo)

The first couple of Panther shots hit the Dwight goalie, but a few minutes later the goals began to fall faster than the rain drops.

A pretty pass from Suzie Dwyer to Lisa Lavinson produced the first score. A minute or two later, Scottie King romped in from midfield and fired in the second tally.

DE produced its only score of the half at this point, making the score 2-1. In total control of the action, PDS then answered with eight more goals before the half ended. Dwyer scored off a free position in front of the net; starting from behind the goal, King worked free for an easy shot, and then scored another off a pass from Dwyer.

At this point PDS was running a clinic on offense. Dwyer made it 6-1, and Becca Royal scored her first. Dwyer, off a feed from Elisa DeRochi and King, both scored once more. The half ended with Robin Cook making one of her patented full-speed rushes to the goal to make it 10-1 just before time ran out.

Second Half No Different. The second half produced more of the same. Dwyer, King and Royal all scored again; Lavinson added another, and DeRochi, Christine Grounds and Kit Greenberg each scored once. Dwyer finished with six goals, King, four, and Royal, three. The three for Royal gave her an even total of 50 for the season. Coach Kim Bedesem, who could have started her reserve players and still won, substituted freely near the end.

Bedesem praised her team for finally putting two good halves together, and taking control of a game from start to finish. The offense kept scoring, and the defense never let DE back in the game. "Jen Bonini played her best game of the season in goal," Bedesem observed. "She stopped 13 of 15 shots."

When the final whistle sounded, Princeton Day had wrapped up its seventh straight championship, and a 14-1-1 season. The loss and the tie both came against Princeton High, the only team to defeat PDS the last four years.

The Panthers are 56-3-1 over that span. Bedesem, who began coaching in 1979, and took one year off in 1983, has coached the team to six of its seven championships.

Hard Work Pays Off. With 56 victories in 60 games, it may all seem ridiculously easy, but that outstanding record masks plenty of effort spent on conditioning and tough practices by Bedesem and her players. This spring PDS had a solid nucleus of five seniors back on defense, but had to find players to fill midfield and attack positions.

"We were really inexperienced in our midfield connection," Bedesem commented, but two younger players really came on strong. Carrie Regan really came through for us all season, becoming a starting player at defense wing. She had to guard the best players on the opposition, and I was thrilled to death with her play, especially when we needed her most."

The other was Laine Alston, who, if she does not go away to school next year, will be counted upon to score for PDS. She tallied 11 goals this season, right up at the top for returning players. "Laine gained confidence at attack wing and scored well," Bedesem reported.

She also singled out the play of Elisa DeRochi, who finished with 19 assists, second only to King who had 20. DeRochi, from her position behind the net, often started the scoring plays with an accurate pass to a player cutting in front of the net.

The attack jelled when another sophomore, Dwyer, joined King as a top scorer. A junior, DeRochi, who came up from the jayvee squad, and a senior, Lavinson, also could be counted upon to score regularly. At the other end, five seniors did the job on defense; Bonini, Betsy Jaffee, Michelle Sternberg, Cook and Royal. Royal also had the ability to scamper from one end of the field to the other with the ball and score.

These girls knocked off every prep opponent with ease, and a couple of high schools — Summit, Chatham and Hopewell Valley — as well. Twice, they seemed on the verge of beating Princeton High, but let the game get away. These were the only disappointments in an otherwise outstanding season.

Trouble Ahead Next Season. The future, however, may bring more than just losses to PHS. The perfect record against prep teams will probably come to an end, and may-

Here's a surprising fact ... When the New York Mets won the pennant last year, they finished farther ahead of second place than any other team in big league baseball history, except one ... The Mets last season finished 21½ games ahead of second place ... The only time that's been surpassed was by the 1902 Pirates who finished 27½ games ahead.

A woman named Jackie Mitchell once struck out the mighty Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in a baseball game ... It happened in an exhibition game between the New York Yankees and Chattanooga Lookouts in Chattanooga, Tenn., in 1931 ... Ms. Mitchell got the chance to face Ruth and Gehrig because she had struck out nine men in a row in a sandlot game the year before and she had a great sinker pitch ... Some skeptics claimed Ruth and Gehrig struck out on purpose but other observers believed the strikeouts were ligitimate and that Ruth was truly trying to hit, and was angry he struck out ... In any case, Jackie Mitchell was possibly the greatest woman baseball player of all-time ... She played one year with the all-male House of David team that used to tour the nation, and she pitched occasionally for some local male teams in the 1930s ... And the fact is she DID strike out Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig on one memorable baseball afternoon.

be Princeton Day's seven-year reign as prep champion. "We lose every star on the team," Bedesem says simply.

Indeed, she does. It will be difficult enough just to replace the six seniors, who will graduate in two and a half weeks. On top of that the team's two high scorers, King and Dwyer, will transfer to Lawrenceville next fall as part of the first group of female students to enroll in the previously all-male secondary school.

"I don't know where we will get the kids to replace them," Bedesem commented. This is going to be a very young team, and I have no idea what's in store for them."

The one certainty is that Bedesem's considerable ability as a coach will produce the best team with the available talent.

PHS Netmen Reign As Group 3 Champs

The Princeton High School tennis team successfully defended its Group 3 State championship on Monday at the Princeton University courts when it zapped Tenefly, 5-0, in the finals. In was the Blue and White's 25th win in 28 matches.

To reach the finals, the Little Tigers had defeated Parsippany Hills, 3-2, earlier in the day. They were scheduled to face Moorestown in the all states tournament semifinals earlier this week.

PHS blitzed 16-4 Tenefly without the loss of a single set. In singles play, Bruce Ellis won, 6-2, 6-0; Stig Leschly won, 6-1, 6-4, and Nick Leschly won, 6-1, 6-1. In doubles play, Mike Mullen and Dimitri Falk triumphed 7-5, 6-4, while Richard Webb and Jamie Womack took the second doubles, 6-1, 6-3.

Parsippany (19-4) presented a sterner test for the Little Tigers who have played better and better as the season has progressed. Ellis won easily, but the Leschly and Lipnick brothers split singles matches. Stig prevailed in a hotly-contested battle with Parsippany's Owen Lipnick, 6-7, 7-5, 7-6, taking the tie-breaker, 7-4. Nick started off with a rush against Adam Lipnick by winning the first set, 6-0, but then faltered, losing the next two and the match, 4-6, 2-6.

PHS won the match when Webb and Womak triumphed at second doubles, 7-6 (7-5) and 6-0. Mullen and Falk dropped a three-setter, 7-5, 1-6, 4-6.

PHS had advanced to the Group 3 state tournament by winning the Central Jersey Group 3 finals last week in Freehold. It defeated Ocean Township, 3-2.

Unlike most matches this season when the singles came through for coach Joe Diefenbach's squad, this time it was the play of the doubles teams that carried the day for the Little Tigers. After Ocean Township (16-3) had won two of three singles matches, Mullen and Falk won, 7-5, 6-3, and Webb and Womack outlasted Aaron Keith and Marty Zimmerman, 2-6, 6-2, 7-5. Nick Leschly triumphed at third singles, 6-0, 6-3.

Ellis bowed to Bruce Haddad, 6-4, 2-6, 1-6, and Stig also lost in three sets after taking the first one, 6-3, 3-6, 3-6. In between tournament matches, the Little Tigers blanked Lawrence, 5-0, in their final regular season match.

COLD COACH ON A HOT STREAK: Princeton Day lacrosse coach Kim Bedesem led her girls to a seventh consecutive Prep title in weather more suited to football.

LET'S TALK ABOUT

HEMLOCK FIORINIA SCALE & HEMLOCK WOOLY ADELGID
with Sam DeTuro
Woodwinds Associates
Hemlock trees, especially old established plantings, have had severe problems with Hemlock Fiorinia Scale and Hemlock Wooly Adelgid (wooly aphid) This "dynamic duo" is increasing. Superimposed on these insect problems is the large spruce mite population in 1986 which contributed additional stress on hemlock, as well as on-going weather stress over the past ten years including several drought periods. A 2% dormant oil in April and September has worked well to keep scale and spruce mites in check
Where infestation of wooly aphid is present, a diazinon plus carbaryl spray should be applied in late September or early October.
Where decline and insect damage is already noted, trees should be heavily fertilized and watered during drought periods.
For more information about tree and shrub care, call WOODWINDS at 924-3500. We are glad to be of service!

PHS Laxmen Primed For the States Contest

"A beautiful way to go into the states," said Princeton High lacrosse coach Bob Campbell last week, as his team ended its regular season with a highly satisfying 6-4 victory over visiting Columbia. "From whistle to whistle, it was the best game we've been involved in all year," added Campbell.

As a result, his Little Tigers were psychologically primed to enter their first round in the states competition. It will be an uphill struggle all the way for PHS, but the Little Tigers are hungry after having been a spectator in the annual state competition for the past six years.

The 13th-seeded Little Tigers were scheduled to oppose third-ranked Kinnelon this week and should they survive they will play the winner of the Mendham-Fairlawn contest on Saturday on the victor's home field.

Campbell has not seen Kinnelon play this year but was told the upstate team has recorded most of its dozen victories against Garden State League opponents. Observed Campbell, "They may not be on the same level as a Bridgewater East or a Westfield but they know how to win."

The contest with 7-8 Columbia and 8-6 PHS was a defensive struggle, highlighted by some outstanding goaltending by Dan Brandt for PHS and Rusty Pinilus for Columbia. "It was a hard-nosed game; there was a lot of hitting," agreed Campbell.

Columbia scored the game's first goal with three seconds left in the opening period PHS tied it early in the second period when Jon Geller, double-teamed, ran between two defenders and scored. Ian McCray then gave the Little Tigers the lead when he converted a nice pass from Jim Laverty and quick-sticked the ball past Pinilus. The first half ended, 2-1.

In the final period, PHS had increased its lead to 5-2 on a pair of goals by Laverty and one by Greg Savidge. Then, after the visitors had closed to 5-3, Paul Fisher scored again for PHS to seal the outcome.

PHS Girls Ranked Fifth In Lacrosse for States

Ranked fifth, the Princeton High girls' lacrosse team was scheduled to host 12th-ranked Chatham this week, in the opening round of the girls' state competition.

Should the Little Tigers get past Chatham, a team it has defeated twice in regular season play, it would then face the winner of the Shawnee-Cherry Hill East game. Shawnee is ranked fourth and would be the host team if it defeats Cherry Hill.

Last year, PHS was upset in the second round in the states by Mnorestown Friends.

PHS ended its regular season last week with a 12-4-1 record when it was shellacked, 14-1, by once-defeated Montville. A scheduled final game against Morrisville was rained out, rescheduled and then cancelled when Morrisville on Thursday informed PHS it could not obtain any officials for the game.

In defeating PHS for the second time this season, Montville (13-1) kept the pressure on full tilt against the visiting Little Tigers. "I would have to rate them as one of the top teams in the state," said PHS coach Joyce Jones.

"They had a very good offense. They had possession, they had speed — everything was clicking for them," Jones added. "They were able to maintain their passing game for 50 minutes. They never let up; that's what impressed me. We were never able to coordinate our attack."

Montville's attack, which outshot Princeton's, 40-20, was paced by Tricia Goodman's five goals. Princeton's lone goal in the first half was scored by Jessica Fraker.

In stopping Lawrence, 3-2, Rumer struck out 14 batters and allowed only three hits, two by his Cardinal mound counterpart, Pete Rossi.

Rossi allowed only four hits himself, including a game-winning triple by Jeff Robinson. Robinson's blow in the sixth inning plated Paul Crystal, who had reached base on a passed ball after a third strike. Crystal also singled home a run in the third inning when the visiting Little Tigers took a 2-0 lead.

The win was the third for Rumer against two setbacks while Rossi absorbed his fifth loss in six outings, as the Cardinals dipped to 2-14. Scheduled to end its season against McCorristin this week, PHS won its eighth game in 20 starts.

Stuart Wins Prep B Title Beating Rutgers Prep 8-6

One day after Princeton Day captured the Prep A lacrosse title, Stuart Country Day knocked off Rutgers Prep, 8-6, to gain the Prep B crown, and climb up to the .500 mark with an 8-8 record.

Playing on the PDS field, the second-seeded Tartans jumped out to a 6-3 lead in the first half on the strength of three goals by captain Michele Davison. She tallied one more in the second half for a total of four. Katie Leahy scored twice, Liz Leahy and Katie Duffy, each once.

Earlier in the week, Stuart had beaten Morristown-Beard, 11-4 in the semi-final match. Duffy, who scored three times despite being double-teamed, and Katie Leahy led the offense. The defense, led by Laura Roberts, Kathleen Moran and Kristen LaBosco, did an effective job of bottling up MoBeard's attack.

Winning the title was especially sweet for first-year coach Debbie Glover, who used to be an assistant to Princeton High girls' lacrosse coach Joyce Jones.

"We started out the season by losing our first six games," said Glover. "But we played a lot of the bigger and tougher teams early. I thought I was crazy in the beginning of the season because of our schedule, but the early tougher times indeed make us a better team.

"I'm going to enjoy this."

Hun Nine Ends Season With An Empty Feeling

The season has ended for the Hun School baseball team not with a win and a bang but with a whimper. The Raiders quietly hung up their uniforms last week without playing a single game.

Hun was unable to make up seven rained-out games and ended with an 8-5 record. "It's the fewest number of games we've played since I've been here," observed Hun coach Bill McQuade who has been at the helm for more than 15 years.

"It's frustrating," confirmed McQuade. "We had a nice ball club but we didn't win any tournament games so we have a semi-empty feeling. The kids feel badly, too. The past two years had been semi-rebuilding years. Then to go 8-5 after winning only six to seven games last year and two the year before and not be able to play ... it was a fine year but there is a little bit of emptiness to have it end so soon."

Next year, if the weather cooperates, Hun has the players coming back to have another fine season. McQuade loses only three from this year's team: catcher Rob Marino, who batted .306; veteran shortstop Nick Miller, who powdered the ball with a .475 average and "who did an unbelievable job in the infield," according to McQuade, and second baseman Joe Doktorski, a post-graduate student, who batted over .350. 'He was a PG with leadership ability that picked us up," said McQuade of Doktorski.

In all, Hun had six players batting over .300 which translated to a hefty .270 team average. Hun's resurgence with the bat this spring was another reason McQuade hated to see the season end prematurely.

The most pressing need next year, said McQuade, will be to find a replacement for Marino behind the plate. Right now the mantle will fall to junior Mike Axlerod. But the pitching, the Achille's Heel for the Raiders this year, will be stronger.

Both Pat Murphy and Noble Ejiogu, the mainstays of this year's squad, will return. McQuade feels that Murphy, a sophomore who intends to play some summer league ball, "is only going to get better."

PHS Trackmen Excell To Win Group 3 Title

Capturing six firsts, the Princeton High boys' track team won the Central Jersey Group 3 sectional championship on Saturday in South Plainfield. The Little Tigers won the team standings with 53 points, followed by Matawan with 31.5 and Steinert with 30. The top five finishers in each event will advance to the State Group Championships to be held Friday and Saturday at South Plainfield High.

At East Brunswick the same day, the PHS girls' track team finished in a 19-19 tie with Bridgewater-Raritan East for third place. Led by its standout runner, Jodie Bilotta, who won the 800, 1600 and 3200 events, North Hunterdon won the Group 3 title with 69 points.

For the boys, Nerva Jean-Louis won the 400 IH hurdles for PHS in 57.8 and came in second in the 110 hurdles behind teammate Pat McKellar, who won the event in 19.9. Jean-Louis was clocked in 15.2

Also winning firsts for PHS were Mark Pirone in the discus (155-8), Peter Paris in the high jump (6-2), Balfour Merrill in the javelin (192-1), and Sean Nyhan in the 800 meter (1:58.7) Nyhan also finished second in the 1600 in 4:30.4, trailing Raritan's Greg Calhoun who won the event in 4:29.6.

Mike Riddick of PHS will advance to the all state competition with a second in the shot (53-5½). McKellar also qualified in the 200 dash, coming in third in 23.3. The winning time was 22.5.

At East Brunswick the best showings by the PHS girls' team were seconds by Rachel Spear in the 400IH (67.0), and Karin Swartz in the 1600 in 5:08.6, ten seconds behind the standout Bilotta.

Sandra Tignor was fourth in the 3200 and sixth in the 1600. Princeton's Meg Parsons was fourth in the 400 in 62.0 and PHS finished 4-5 in the 800. In the latter, Janine Barnshaw was fourth in 2:25.5 and Katy Willard was fifth in 2:29.0. Bilotta's winning time: 2:15.8.

The top six finishers in each event will advance to the State Group Championships this weekend in South Plainfield.

Hun Stickmen End 6-8; Next Year Looks Better

The Hun School lacrosse team ended its season last week by splitting two games to end with a record of six wins and eight losses. Hun defeated Pennington School, 9-6, but earlier was eliminated, 7-5, by Voorhees in the semi-final round of the Garden State League C Division playoffs.

Looking at the record in perspective, Hun coach Dave Faus pointed out that four of the eight losses were by the margin of a single goal. "We were in every game this year. That is a big change for us. We were involved in a couple of blowouts last year but not one this year."

Everyone from himself on down is eager about the prospects of things to come, said Faus. The Hun jayvee team finished with a perfect 9-0 record; 20 players will attend summer camps this year; and from Hun's first sizable squad of 45 this spring, a lot of sophomores will be moving up.

Added Faus: "Everybody is excited. Excited about the numbers, excited about the enthusiasm."

Coming back for Hun on attack are Hardy Roddy, the leading scorer on this year's team with more than 30 goals, and two freshmen, Scott Gordon and Dale Beach. Paul Greco returns from the first line midfield, plus the entire third midfield, and Bob Siegel on defense. Sophomore Ian Davies and freshman B. J. Michaud, who shared the goaltending duties, also return and Faus observed, "It's great having those two battle it out; it will only make each one better."

With this backlog of talent and numbers, Faus could say, with a large degree of confidence, "I think we'll be competitive through the years."

In last week's loss to Voorhees, Jeff Hilton, the second-leading scorer for the Raiders this spring with 20 goals, scored three times and Roddy added two more to account for all of Hun's goals. In the win over Pennington School, which is competing in the sport for the first year, Hilton scored three times and had two assists, while Roddy added a pair of goals. Tim Burke and Gere Ricker also scored, as did two from the jayvee squad, Deke Young and Paul Welykoridko.

Ficarro's Is Victorious Over Grove Plumbing

The Princeton-based Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team took over sole possession of first place in the Mercer County Women's League with a 7-0 record, by winning both of its games last week: a 14-2 victory over Russert's Deli and a come-from-behind 4-3 win over Grove Plumbing. In the Russert's game, Ficarro's blasted out 20 hits, led by Sandi Hibbs' four-for-five performance and Cheryl Silva, who was three-for-five. Donna Nicholson, Beth Ault, and Dee Vertucci all had two hits, Dee Discavage had three RBI's, and Clare Baxter was the winning pitcher.

In the eagerly-awaited "showdown" game between the last of the league's undefeated teams, which drew well over 100 spectators, Grove jumped out in front with two runs in the top of the first inning on four hits and a Ficarro's error. In the bottom of the sixth, Ficarro's Dot Krumpfer and Silva singled, and with two out, Janet Swick reached first on an error to load the bases, Grace Durland hit a sharp ground ball that was misplayed by Grove, scoring Krumpfer. Then in a classic duel between batter and pitcher, Ault drew an RBI walk, which forced in Silva with the tying run.

Two Ficarro errors in the top of the seventh put Grove back on top, 3-2, going into the Ficarro half of the inning. Nicholson led off with a single, and with one out, Krumpfer crushed a triple to drive in Nicholson with the tying run. Ficarro third base coach Al Lombardo noticed a Grove misplay on the relay of the throw in from the outfield and waved Krumpfer home with the game-winning run. Baxter picked up her second win of the week, allowing just six hits.

Registration Deadline For Summer Lacrosse

Registration for the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League must be completed at the Recreation Office before June 1. All players for both the men's and women's league must register before they can be placed on a team.

The men's league will be held this year at the Riverside School field. It is open to Princeton and non-resident players who have completed at least the ninth grade of play.

Games are played Tuesday and Thursday evenings, starting at 6, and will continue through the first week of August. The season begins with an orientation night June 9 at 5:30.

The women's league will be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Princeton High girls' lacrosse field. The fees for both the men's and women's leagues are $15 for residents, $30 for non-residents. A team jersey is included in the fee.

For additional information, call the Recreation Department, 921-9480.
